PRICE FIVE CENTS

Seeking $25,000 Here For Tourist Promotion; Travel Council Adopts Higher Dues

Gettysburg's Travel Council Wednesday evening embarked on an assessment-type dues campaign in an effort to raise the $25,000 it needs for the coming year's operation.

At the same time it noted that it has already spent $7,218 of that amount and will not be able to meet the obligations its has already voted unless the members pay the assessments and more members are secured.

Accepted was a proposal that the basic membership fee be 1½ per cent of the gross of the best month's business, with minimum dues of $50.

COMPETITION IS KEEN

William Richardson, of the membership committee, who presented the report for that group, said tourists provide $15,000,000 in income to the community annually and that the $12,097 income which Travel Council received last year "is proportionately too low to properly promote a business of that size."

He warned that Gettysburg "is in competition to all other tourist places for the tourist dollar." Showing the packet sent out by the state Department of Commerce to several thousands of people who write the state each year for information on tourist places in the state, Richardson noted, "Here are beautiful, many color brochures from places that had much less to offer than we have. And here is our one-color little flyer that is likely to get lost. If you received the packet, which would attract you, the more expensive printing from the other tourist centers, or the little folder that is the best we can afford with the money we are receiving from dues?"

York, he told the group, is spending $38,900 a year on its travel council operation. Lancaster Travel Council has a budget of $41,400. "The 56 members of the Pocono Travel Agency pay $60,000 a year in dues alone."

BUYING ADVERTISING

"During the last two years seven new travel promotion agencies have come into existence in Pennsylvania. They are spending money to attract tourists, and they can hurt us. In fact they have already cut the amount of state aid our Travel Council is receiving because the amount allocated by the state has had to be split seven ways."

"Gettysburg has been fortunate, but it must do its own advertising if it wants to continue and increase its travel business. As an example 3,000,000 people attend the Canadian Exposition each year. One of our first orders of business should be to have an exhibit there next summer. But we can't do it without money. We need more road signs at a distance from Gettysburg. But we can't do it without money. When you are paying into travel council you are not donating—you are simply paying for advertising. And you have to have advertising or you will be lost in the midst of the competition for the tourist dollar."

Richardson said a questionnaire had been sent local tourist business. (Continued On Page 3)

EMMITSBURG WOMAN DIES

Mrs. Bertha A. Rightmire, 80, wife of Wiley T. Rightmire, Emmitsburg, died Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Warner Hospital where she had been a patient for the last week.

A native of Kenney, Ill., she was a daughter of the late David H. and Emma Jane (Aughinbaugh) Lahr.

In 1930 Mr. and Mrs. Rightmire and their family moved to Adams County from Troop County, South Dakota, where they had been one of the last homesteaders. They resided along the Taneytown Rd., just south of here, until 1952 when they moved to Emmitsburg. She was a member of Trinity United Church of Christ here.

Surviving are the husband; three children: E. Ross Rightmire, Baltimore; Wales E. Rightmire, Emmitsburg; and Mrs. Gerald F. Ryder, Emmitsburg; 10 grandchildren and two brothers, Earl Lahr, Lincoln, Ill., and Eli Lahr, LeRoy, Ill.

Funeral services Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Bender Funeral Home, Carlisle St., with the Rev. Dr. Howard S. Fox, her pastor, officiating. Interment in Evergreen Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home this evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

SEVEN STARS RESIDENTS IN EQUITY ACTION

Nine residents and property owners of the Seven Stars area have filed an action in equity in the county court against the Hercules Alcor Chemical Co. and the owners of the plant it uses asking an injunction preventing emission of chemical smoke from the plant and asking damages to health and property.

Plaintiffs in the case are Kenneth E. and Norma A. Hess, John L. Cauffman, Luther N. and Emma J. Deane, Dean E. and Beatrice G. Carey, described as residing in Seven Stars north of Route 30, and J. Calvin and Grace M. Shank, described as owners of a property in Seven Stars north of the Lincoln Highway.

The defendants are Hercules Alcor Chemical Co., Inc., an Ohio concern, and Robert H. Shull, Orranna R. 1, and John D. Settle, Seven Stars, the owners of the property in Seven Stars on which Hercules Alcor operates.

THERE TWO YEARS

According to the complaint filed in the prothonotary's office for the plaintiffs by Attorney Donald G. Oyer, Settle and Shull leased their property to Hercules Alcor July 1, 1961, and since August 1, 1961, the chemical company has been producing aluminum chloride at the plant seven days a week, 24 hours a day.

"Seven Stars was a quiet residential country village prior to the time Hercules began operation of said plant," according to the complaint.

The complainants allege, "Chloride which is stored and used in huge quantities (at the plant) is a chemical dangerous to handle when compressed into liquid form and lethally poisonous when released as gas."

In its operation, according to the complaint, liquid chlorine is pumped through molten aluminum "scrap, waste and dross."

"LIVES IN DANGER"

The plaintiffs allege their properties, their lives and the health of themselves and their families are "in constant danger because of the location of said plant in close proximity to their homes."

NEW FASHIONS SHOWN BY 14 LOCAL MODELS

"Spotlight on Fashion at Today's" was presented at Wednesday night's Gettysburg Times Cooking School when the newest in fall colors, styles and materials were shown in this annual fashion show.

Mrs. Lorraine Glick, Baltimore, was the narrator and introduced the 14 models who, she said, would be "presenting the 1964 look—fall fashions especially with you in mind. You will be seeing wonderfully wearable daytime clothes and exciting fashions for dress-up time, worn with fascinating accessories."

The costumes featured the new "pretend" furs, the lovely suede materials, the fur-trimmed coats and suits, fabrics with textured finishes and the ever-popular knits. In addition to styles being worn by America's busy women, fashions suitable for high school and college campus wear were featured.

SLACKS, FORMALS

The models showed clothes ranging in style from the very casual slacks and sweaters to the elegant long-sleeved look in formal clothes, and included dress-up clothes and coats, with gloves, jewelry and handbags coordinated with each costume. The colors featured the season's popular new colors of teal blue, gold and cranberry, as well as the basic red, black, white and blue.

Models included: Mrs. Harold R. Hand, Mrs. Louise Armstrong, Mrs. Kenneth Dick, Mrs. Paul L. Roy, Mrs. Richard Trostel, Mrs. Louise Williamson, Mrs. Kate Bievenour, Mrs. Francis Wisotzky and the Misses Shirley Wisotzky, Anna Mae Bigham, Diane Doyle, Nancy Bow, Molly Ayre and Kay Newman.

Ted Lloyd and Gerald Bixler were ushers for the models. Prof. Harry F. Bolich presented background organ music for the show. The fashion showing of the season's newest styles was arranged by Mrs. Shirley Dessen, owner of Tobey's.

Fairfield Pastors To Offer Bible Reading, Prayer Period For School Pupils In Morning

Boys and girls in the Fairfield public schools will have the opportunity to hear the Bible read and pray each school morning before they go to school.

The Fairfield Ministerium announced today that, beginning next Monday morning, there will be a seven-minute devotional service in the Fairfield Mennonite Church just across the road from the school building.

With one Protestant minister of the community in charge each morning, the brief program will be conducted from 8:10 to 8:17 a.m. each school day and the time schedule will be adhered to closely so that the pupils can reach school in time for the morning session.

BIBLE READING, PRAYER

Attendance will be voluntary. It was emphasized by the Rev. Otto Kroeger, Fairfield Lutheran pastor who is a member of the ministerium and a member of the joint school board, said he hopes the "parents will encourage their children to participate."

The seven-minute period will include Bible reading, a brief prayer by the minister in charge, the Lord's prayer and possibly a hymn.

Pupils who walk to school will have ample time for the Bible reading and all but a few of the bus pupils will arrive in time for the church program. There is a preliminary bell at the school at 8:25 a.m. and school sessions begin at 8:30 o'clock.

SUBSTITUTE AT SCHOOL

"We are attempting to meet a need expressed by the parents in view of the school board's decision to comply with the Supreme Court decision and ban the regular Bible reading and Lord's prayer from the school," the Rev. Mr. Kroeger said.

In school, homeroom teachers conduct inspirational readings in place of the former Bible reading and prayer.

The plan to offer Bible reading and prayer was proposed by the Rev. Robert Paden, pastor of St. John's nited Church of Christ, at the last meeting of the Fairfield

FARMERS VOTE OPPOSITION TO 'PROJECT 70'; 6 NAMED TO BD.

The Adams County Farmers' Association held its annual banquet meeting Wednesday evening at Fairfield where an officer of its state organization urged members to vote against Project 70 and the proposed constitutional convention in November.

At a business session the farmers elected six directors for their organization and adopted 13 statements of policy including one condemning Project 70.

The speaker, Hollis Hatfield, administrative secretary for the state Farmer's Association, told his audience that the Farmers' Association for the last 10 years has favored changing the state constitution by amendment instead of by calling a convention for a new constitution.

6 DIRECTORS CHOSEN

He condemned the constitutional convention proposal which will be on the ballots in November as "not the Scranton bill at all" and told the farmer that "in line with your policies you can only vote 'no' in November."

He assailed the Project 70 plan to use $70,000,000 of state funds and $30,000,000 of federal funds to buy land for recreational purposes as "the greatest spending monstrosity the people of Pennsylvania have ever faced" and "the greatest grab for power we've ever seen."

After a nominating committee report was presented by Stuart Lucabaugh, chairman, the members balloted and elected Charles Lott, Horace Waybright, Cameron Garretson, William B. Hall, William Fissel and John Bream Jr. The other nominees were George Basehoar, Ivan Kindig, Floyd Kuhn, William Lower and Lewis Lippy.

CITES "MAJOR ISSUES"

President Horace Frey presided during the evening with 143 in attendance. He announced the annual state convention for York on November 11-13 with a delegation from this county to attend the annual banquet the night of November 12. He also announced the kickoff of the annual membership campaign for late January. The association membership climbed to a new high of 496 during the current year.

Hatfield described the Farmers' Association as the "largest and the most recognized farm organization in the nation" and as "the only purebred, general farmers' organization in the country." He credited the organization with making the current "chicken war" possible in U. S. foreign trade and said serious consideration is being given by the U. S. to raising tariffs on Volkswagens, Renault-Dauphines and French wines as a result of the high tariffs placed abroad on U. S. poultry. (The "reprise section" of the

PLAN "OPEN HOUSE"

Members and friends of the Gettysburg Church of the Brethren have been invited to an open house at the home of their new pastor, the Rev. Merlin G. Shull, in Arendtsville. The hours for the open house are from 3 to 5 and 6 to 8 p.m.

GEN. LAMPERT HEADS POINT

Maj. Gen. James Benjamin Lampert, 49, 46th superintendent of the United States Military Academy at West Point, N.Y., is a nephew of Col. Lester L. Lampert, Fletcher, N. C., who resided in Gettysburg for four years while serving as professor of military science and tactics at Gettysburg College.

General Lampert's father, Lt. Col. James G. B. Lampert, a 1910 graduate of West Point and brother of Col. Lester L. Lampert, invented and developed the floating foot bridge during the first world war which was generally credited with speeding Allied victory.

Another nephew of Col. Lampert is a recent graduate of the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md.

Col. Lampert and his son, Lt. Col. L. L. Lampert Jr., will attend reunions of their classes at West Point next June, the 50th for the elder Lampert and the 25th for his son. When young Lampert graduated in 1939 he was the son of the only man who graduated from the Point 25 years earlier.

FIREMEN CALLED

Gettysburg firemen were called Wednesday night at 7:20 o'clock to a woods fire on Culp's Hill off the Baltimore pike.

Police Probe Two Burglaries

State police today were investigating two burglaries reported to them Wednesday morning.

Someone entered the Town and Country LP Gas Company, Gettysburg R. 6, by forcing a rear window sometime late Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning. James T. Hays Sr., the owner, who discovered the loss, said the thieves ransacked the office and took $133.13.

Sometime between 5 p.m. Tuesday and 6 a.m. Wednesday, Norman K. Lady, Biglerville R. 1, who discovered the loss, reported to police someone forced the front door of the Walter and Lady, Inc., office on the Biglerville-Arendtsville Rd., ransacked the office and took $45 in currency.

R. C. REBERT, RETIRED RURAL MAILMAN, DIES

Robert Calvin Rebert, 84, resident of E. Middle St. for the last 13 years and formerly a resident of Cashtown, died early this afternoon at the Pape Convalescent Home where he had been a guest since late February.

He was a retired rural mail carrier and had served routes out of the McKnightstown and Orrtanna offices for a number of years.

Mr. Rebert was a member of the Gettysburg Lodge of the Elks, the Cashtown Fire Company and the Cashtown United Church of Christ.

WIFE DIED IN 1949

A son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Rebert, he was married to the former Elsie Lower who died in December, 1949. Since her death, Mr. Rebert had lived with his daughter, Mrs. Robert Shearer, 253 E. Middle St.

Surviving are these children: Richard, Lansdowne; Mrs. Carl Lotz, Shillington; James, McSherrytown; Bryon, Dillsburg, and Mrs. Shearer. Among the brothers and sisters surviving are Dorsey, Baltimore St.; John, Orrtanna R. D.; Clair, McKnightstown; Perren, Seven Stars; Paul, Orrtanna R. D.; Mrs. John Lower, McKnightstown R. D., and Mrs. Gerald Evey, Camp Hill.

The Bender Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

VFW CHAIRMEN NAMED TO HEAD LOCAL DRIVES

A number of committee chairmen were appointed by Commander Charles R. Moser at Wednesday evening's meeting of the Gettysburg VFW at its home on E. Middle St.

Senior Vice Commander Norman Myers was selected to head both the Veterans Day and membership drive committees. Past Commander J. Edward Kerrigan will be chairman for the Buddy Poppy sale committee. Past Commander Robert B. Swisher was named chairman for the Christmas party for members' children. Junior Vice Commander and Adjutant Walter O. Powell was named Loyalty Day and community service chairman.

Powell, Moser and Kerrigan were named as a committee to study ways of improving the service of the post to the community and was asked to report at the next meeting.

WILL GIVE CITATION

The post decided to present the Ambulance Corps of the Gettysburg Fire Department with a VFW citation for outstanding service to the community.

Donations of $5 each were voted to the United Fund campaign and the Halloween program. A moment of silence was observed. (Continued On Page 3)

SCHOOLS ARE CLOSED

Parochial schools in the county and Delone Catholic High School are closed today and Friday while the teachers attend the Harrisburg Diocesan Educational Conference at York Catholic High School.

REPORTS BURGLARY

LeRoy Smith, 100 Broadway, reported to borough police Wednesday morning at 11:45 o'clock that, apparently during a period from August 10 to present, someone entered his house, took a stainless steel cutlery set and about $50 in cash.

"You always buy good nutrition when you purchase meat, whether you buy the more expensive cuts or the less expensive ground meats," Miss Charmaine Robinson told the audience at the second night of The Gettysburg Times Cooking School Wednesday evening in the Gettysburg Junior High School auditorium.

Miss Robinson will present new recipes at the closing session of the school tonight, at which all the major prizes including a complete electric home laundry will be awarded.

Miss Robinson and her assistants, Miss Sandra Sime and Miss Harriet Carr, delighted the audience of 1,300 with their preparation of foods in their "Spotlight on Foods." The program is being held in conjunction with the National Livestock and Meat Board of Chicago and the Metropolitan Edison Company. The stage of the auditorium is equipped with appliances from the participating merchants to provide an all-electric cooking area.

RIBS OF BEEF

The home economist called attention to the charts showing the cuts of beef, veal, pork, and lamb in the center of the cookbook which is given to each lady attending the school. All the recipes were tested and selected by a panel of home economists before being added to the book.

The first food prepared was standing ribs of beef, which Miss Robinson explained was a tender cut of meat which would be roasted in the oven. "The two basic means of cooking meat in the oven are the moist heat method and the dry heat method," she said. "With the dry-heat method, the meat is not covered while roasting. Let the roast stand outside the refrigerator a little while before putting it in the oven; then it should be allowed to stand about 15 minutes after taking it out of the oven before you try to carve it."

This food was awarded to Mrs. Charlotte Waite, Gettysburg, R. 4, when she most nearly guessed the correct weight of the roast. Mrs. Lloyd Cromre, R. 1, and Mrs. Wayne VanDyke, Biglerville R. 1, who also had volunteered to guess the weight, won consolation prizes of Pyrex ware.

USES PURE LARD

The homemade pastry mix was again used in the preparation of the apple plum dumpling. "Pure lard should be used in the mix because it gives a superior pie crust, a tender flaky crust. It should be selected for all your favorite baking products," Miss Robinson pointed out that two-thirds of the convenience foods we now get in our markets were not available 10 years ago, and suggested the home-makers become more familiar with the many new products on the grocery shelves. She pointed out that, for every $100 spent in a grocery store, $14.03 goes for convenience foods.

BUY LEAN PORK

As she prepared the meat dishes, Miss Robinson demonstrated the characteristics of that particular cut of meat. "Lean pork has no more calories than any other lean meat; it should be included in the diet more often," she stated as she prepared the double A pork chops. "One pork chop has as much thiamin as 16 slices of bread; as much protein as 17 bowls of cereal; one serving of pork liver contains as much iron as 15 servings of spinach." She suggested this particular recipe as a good one to be prepared ahead of time and then kept in the refrigerator until about an hour before it is to be served.

While preparing the raisin rice lamb chops, she showed her audience how to remove the fell from the outside of the lamb chops. She indicated that it should

Cerebral Palsy Total Tops Goal

A total of $1,637.46 has been collected so far in the Cerebral Palsy drive in Adams County outside Gettysburg, Mrs. David G. Deitch, Carlisle St., chairman of the campaign announced today.

The amount is more than $400 over the goal of $1,200 set for the campaign.

The community by community report is as follows: Hampton, $31.60; Orrtanna, $31.50; Arendtsville, $109; Littlestown, $328.78; Seven Stars, $5.60; McKnightstown, $11.50; Fairfield, $123.74; Cashtown, $51.22; McSherrytown, $41.98; York Springs, $4; Bensersville, $73.15; Aspers, $33; New Oxford, $308.49; East Berlin, $179.10; Abbottstown, $81.53; Heidlersburg, $19; Centennial, $11.75; Brushtown, $29; Guernsey, $32.50; Biglerville, $231.02.

FEAR DANGER TIDES; SEEK HIGHER AREA

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Residents of the southern coastal areas of Puerto Rico, the Dominican Republic and Haiti were warned today to flee to higher ground before the arrival of dangerous tides pushed up by hurricane Edith.

At 8 a.m. (EST), the 100-mile-an-hour storm was churning up the Caribbean Sea 175 miles south of Puerto Rico and increasingly heavy swells were racing toward that island.

This afternoon and tonight, following the passage of the hurricane, the San Juan Weather Bureau said flooding could be expected on the south coast and central regions of Puerto Rico.

STORM TIDES

Dangerously high storm tides, the Weather Bureau said, will reach the southern coast of Hispaniola (which embraces the Dominican Republic and Haiti) some time tonight.

Forecasters at the National Hurricane Center at Miami declined to predict what course the hurricane might take beyond the next 12 hours.

Forecaster Arnold Sugg declared, however, that the storm "is not going to dissipate and it cannot get out of the Caribbean without hitting something. Somebody is in trouble."

BEELINE COURSE

Since it was born in the Atlantic Ocean, and crashed through the Windward and Leeward Islands, the hurricane has maintained a beeline course to the west-northwest. If it continues in this direction, the storm center would pass south of Hispaniola.

Cuba was next in line for trouble after Hispaniola. A northward turn, always possible, would be necessary before a threat developed to Florida and the rest of the U.S. mainland.

Radio reports received here by Pan American World Airways said the hurricane damaged 90 per cent of all property on the French island of Martinique at the eastern end of the Caribbean. There was no mention, however, of death or injuries.

U.S. TENNISISTS LEAD BRITISH

BOURNEMOUTH, Eng. (AP) — The United States took a 2-0 lead over Britain today in the interzone Davis Cup tennis semifinals when Chuck McKinley defeated Mike Sangster and Frank Froehling beat Billy Knight in the opening singles matches.

McKinley, the current Wimbledon champion, won in straight sets, 7-5, 6-2, 7-5. Froehling then outlasted Billy Knight, British hard court champion, 4-6, 8-6, 6-4, 6-4.

The U.S. now needs only a doubles victory Friday to clinch the series and enter the interzone final against India.

3,000 PRESENT

A crowd of 3,000 saw McKinley of San Antonio, Tex., master Sangster on a red shale court that had been left slow by overnight rain.

McKinley played cool and accurate tennis. He waited for Sangster to make the errors.

The American combined a steady backhand with clever strategy, constantly changing the pace of his shots.

McKinley trailed 1-3 in the first set, but pulled it out by winning four straight games. Sangster had the third set to 4 in his own favor but McKinley recovered to win the next three games and the match.

It was the first time Sangster had ever lost a Davis Cup match in Britain. It broke his string of 12 straight wins.

Caroline's Class Takes Blimp Ride

WASHINGTON (AP) — Caroline Kennedy and her White House classmates took off for a ride in a big blimp on their first day at school.

Life in the White House school is unusual enough, but Wednesday was extra special.

As the 20 youngsters who attend first grade and kindergarten at the White House school arrived to start the new term, they were met at the door by First Lady Jacqueline Kennedy and her two children with exciting news.

Everyone piled into White House limousines and drove to Dulles International Airport in Virginia where a big Goodyear blimp stood waiting for them.

"They had a marvelous time. You never saw such excited children," a Goodyear spokesman said later.

The blimp had been at the airport since Saturday taking up invited passengers and advertising the United Givers' Fund.

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Life looked rosier today for the two young lovers from Philadelphia, Mary Lee Davis, 15-year-old niece of Princess Grace of Monaco, and John Paul Jones, Jr., 19, son of an architect. They had court permission to marry under Iowa law.

Three weeks of living here secretly, 1,100 miles away from their fashionable homes in the East while police were looking for them was past history for the young elopers, who come from wealthy families.

They talked about starting a new life—for the present at least—out here in the Midwest.

TALKED WITH JUDGE
The couple cleared the first hurdle toward becoming man and wife late Wednesday when they walked into the chambers of District Judge Tom Murrow with the Jones boy's father.

The elder Jones was unshaven but relieved after flying into Des Moines early Wednesday with Mary Lee's stepfather, Eugene C. Conlan, when the presence of the young couple here was discovered.

Miss Davis, tall, stately and pretty in a page-boy bob, and the husky, handsome and smiling Jones boy faced the judge when they sat down and talked it over.

Because of Mary Lee's age she could not marry in Iowa without the court's permission, which was granted.

"The children have their parents' consent to be married," the judge was told.

LAWYER FAILS TO SWAY JUDGE IN FRAUD CASE

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Assistant Dist. Atty. Anthony J. Caiazzo produced a death certificate and 11 witnesses but was unable to convince Judge Byron A. Nelson that Belman Lui was dead.

And as a result, Gerald Levinson, 30, was found innocent Wednesday of conspiracy to defraud an estate. Levinson is a former customer's man for a brokerage firm.

Among the witnesses Caiazzo produced were neighbors who said they saw Lui's body taken from a room in 1961, two medical examiners and an undertaker who testified he buried Lui.

$70,000 IN STOCKS
The case involves $70,000 in stocks found in Lui's room. Three men were charged with attempting to obtain the stocks with a phony will. One man is awaiting sentence after pleading guilty.

After two days of testimony, the judge told Caiazzo: "I'm still not convinced that that was Belman Lui's body."

"What more can I do to show that Belman Lui died—What more?" asked the assistant district attorney.

"Well, I'm not on the witness stand," replied the judge.

Since the start of the trial Levinson's counsel, State Sen. Benjamin Donolow, had cast doubt on the assertion it was Lui's decomposed body taken from the rooming house in a plastic bag Sept. 11, 1961.

Court Approves Marriage Of Young Philadelphians

HAVE PARENTS' CONSENT
"The children have their parents' consent to be married," the judge was told.

Some details, however, still have to be cleared up. The couple must produce blood test certificates and submit parental consent in written form. Then they can apply for the license and within three days they can be married.

Before leaving the courthouse the elder Jones told Judge Murrow: "See you in three days."

The father said the youngsters now want to be just "normal married folks."

"As soon as the pressure is off, the publicity and all," he added. "I think everything will be all right."

And young Jones told a reporter: "We like Des Moines and as long as I can continue to work here, we'll stay."

ATTENDED PRIVATE SCHOOLS
A short time back he and Mary Lee, who had known each other about a year, had been students at exclusive, private schools in Philadelphia.

But two days ago Mary Lee was a waitress in a hotel coffee shop and her boy friend was selling encyclopedias in Des Moines, living quietly in a small apartment.

Mary Lee's stepfather had gone back to Philadelphia but father Jones planned to remain here for a while, staying with the couple at the apartment house.

Mary Lee's mother divorced the girl's father, George L. Davis Jr., a Philadelphia sportsman, in 1959. The mother married Conlan last month.

Mrs. Conlan is the eldest sister of Princess Grace of Monaco, and daughter of the late John B. Kelly, millionaire brick contractor.

She was bridesmaid and Mary Lee was flower girl at the wedding of Grace, former movie star, to Prince Rainier of Monaco in 1956.

GOV. SCRANTON SAYS KENNEDY STRENGTH LOW

By RICHARD L. GRAVES

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Scranton said today President Kennedy's political strength is stronger today than in 1960, but is ebbing.

At the same time he said Republican political power is on the upsurge "and if it continues at this pace it will be a very good race next year" in the presidential contest.

"During the summer months the decline (of Kennedy strength) has been perceptible all over the United States," Scranton told his weekly news conference.

CIVIL RIGHTS BACK LASH

Scranton cited these reasons: —A "back lash on the civil rights matter from both directions. Both from those who feel he (the president) waited too long to take any action and those who feel that when he did take action he was too extreme in the way of legislative suggestions."

The President's handling of the potential railroad strike "was most unfortunate" because it "had to wind up in Congress' hands."

"I think this will set a precedent which bothers me very much in labor-management relations. It means that every time there may be a major strike of some sort, they will be finally trying to take it to congress."

UNHAPPY FARMERS

"The farmers seem to be unhappy," as indicated by the summer wheat referendum which rejected the administration's marketing control program.

"The situation in southeast Asia has certainly deteriorated."

"These are the main things I think that have cost him," the governor said.

Asked about Republican chances next year, the governor said: "Nobody knows in politics what the situation next year is going to be. This is elementary." But he added:

STRONG GOP UPSURGE

"I do think the Republican upsurge has been very strong this summer and that if it continues at this pace it will be a very good race next year. I believe there are many reasons to believe this will be the case. As for personalities I don't want to get into that. I'm sure that anybody the Republicans nominate will be a very capable contender."

The governor again discounted his own position as a potential candidate.

The governor said that from what he has heard, politically, that Kennedy "is weaker within the Mountain States and apparently in the Middle West and definitely much weaker in the South."

"Generally speaking he has kind of an even-Steven deal in California," he added.

He said that over all Kennedy "is somewhat stronger in the Northeast" than he was in 1960.

"But I think his popularity in this area has declined considerably from last winter."

POLICE PUSH BIRMINGHAM BOMB PROBE

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Police pushed investigation into the city's latest bombing, apparently a treacherous decoy-type bombing, while a two-man presidential team scheduled another round of meetings today with white and Negro leaders.

The latest bombing occurred early Wednesday, hours after the arrival of former Army Secretary Kenneth C. Royall and former Army football coach Earl Blaik.

Royall and Blaik were sent by President Kennedy to promote racial harmony in this tense city. They described themselves as "friendly guests."

Investigators of the bombing said a minor explosion set off in a clump of bushes and honeysuckle vines was apparently designed to lure people and police onto the street.

Then they would have been caught in the full force of a second blast from a shrapnel bomb, which exploded 4 minutes later and hurled nails and pieces of metal through windows and into walls of houses, investigators said.

Residents of the southside Birmingham section failed to rush out after the initial blast, however, and there were no injuries when the shrapnel bomb went off.

Royall and Blaik met with white and Negro leaders Wednesday and indicated they had scheduled another round of meetings today and in following days. Details were not released.

Autos Collide In Hanover Tuesday

Two automobiles collided in Hanover Tuesday at 5:15 p.m., causing damage estimated at $900.

The cars were driven by Stanley T. Reiker, 40, Hanover, and Jean L. Cape, 25, New Oxford R. 1, police reported.

Hanover police said the Reiker car was moving south on Franklin St. and the Cape car was going north on Franklin St. The Reiker auto attempted to make a left turn east into an alley and was in collision with the left front of the Cape auto, police reported.

Damage to each vehicle was estimated at $300, police said.

Leaves Pastorate To Further Studies

Rev. Larry M. Miller, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, Roundtown, for the past two years, has resigned effective October 1 to begin studies for his doctorate degree in religion at Temple University, Philadelphia.

Rev. Miller, who will preach his final sermon at the 10:30 a.m. service Sunday, is a 1958 graduate of Gettysburg College and a 1961 graduate of the Lutheran Seminary.

The congregation will be served by supply pastors until another minister is named. Rev. and Mrs. Miller will reside at Red Lion where Mrs. Miller, the former Miss Marcia Hoy, of Gettysburg, is serving as librarian at the Red Lion Area Senior High School.

Five Students Are Teaching In Town

Five student teachers from Shippenburg State College have been assigned to Gettysburg classrooms for the fall semester. They are: Glenda J. RECOMMENDS BOYCOTT PLAN
Richardson said the local Travel Council members should "adopt the tightly knit organization that they have in the Poconos."

"There they support only their own members and boycott others. If a man sells goods in the Poconos he must belong to their travel agency or its members do not buy from him. As a result those who benefit help promote the area by their membership in the travel agency. Those who do not join are boycotted. We should adopt the same program here. If people want to do business with us, they should help us get more business by travel council promotion. In the long run they are only helping themselves."

General agreement to boycott nonmembers and help promote the business of the various members was indicated in the discussion. Members present were given the names of nonmembers and asked to visit them and endeavor to obtain their membership in Travel Council.

President Andrew Larson told the group: "The prosperity of the entire community responds directly to the amount of advertising we do."

Following the dinner meeting, slides depicting scenes at the "Day in the Life of a Civil War Soldier" program here last weekend were shown. CADET TROOP ELECTION HELD Officers were named Tuesday at the meeting of St. Francis Xavier Cadet Girl Scout Troop at Xavier Hall.

Becky Riley, Norine Lovett and Nancy Toomey were named patrol leaders. Betty Harding was elected president; Kay Sneeringer, vice president; Karen Riley, scribe, and Nancy Toomey, treasurer.

It was announced that Mrs. Romeo Capozzi will assist the troop with the Marian award and that Betty Harding and Carrie Tussing will be her troop representatives.

The troop voted to take part in the Halloween parade, and decided to hold a rummage and bake sale at St. Francis Xavier Hall November 8 and 9 to help raise money for a trip to New York in the spring.

Plans were made for a trip to Washington, D.C., November 1 where the troop will visit the National Shrine, lunch at a Japanese restaurant, and tour the Girl Scout National Camp at Bethesda.

Members of the troop are currently serving as baby sitters during the Masses at the church as a service project and working toward the Marian award.

The meeting closed with an outdoor scavenger hunt. Leaders present were Mrs. Holthe Harding and Senior Aide Jane Toomey.

SEVEN STARS

They allege, "Loud and offensive noises emanate from the plant at all hours of the day and night of such volume as to interfere with peace, quiet, sleep and comfort, and interfere with the enjoyment and use of our homes."

They claim the aluminum chloride fumes emitted fill the air with "an offensive odor"; that aluminum chloride and aluminum oxide settle on their property and enter their homes requiring them to "keep doors and windows closed tightly regardless of the weather and to clean continuously."

They also allege the hydrochloric acid formed when the fumes meet moisture in the air is corroding roofs, screens, storm windows and all things metal about their homes, attacking the mortar and brick of their homes, bleaches and damages clothing, and destroys trees and other vegetation.

They claim that the smoke and dust coming across Route 30 frequently are so dense they cause a traffic hazard, making it dangerous for them to enter and leave their homes, and cause respiratory ailments.

Sale and rental values of their properties have been "substantially reduced," according to the claim, and they are "greatly annoyed, inconvenienced and discomforted."

In the action the plaintiffs ask the court to issue an injunction prohibiting the plant from emitting aluminum chloride fumes, and asks the court to bring judgment against the defendants in any amount it may set for discomfort, mental pain, damage and depreciation caused by the emission of the chemical.

SEEK MEETING WITH GROMYKO

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)

—British Foreign Secretary Lord Home and U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk met today to prepare the groundwork for new talks with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko in the wake of the limited nuclear test ban treaty.

Home and a half dozen aides arrived for the conference at the headquarters of the U.S. delegation to the United Nations two minutes early. The foreign secretary told reporters he doubted if he would have anything to say after the conference.

He and Rusk intend to seek some agreement with Gromyko on new steps toward disarmament and lasting peace to follow up on the test ban ratified in Moscow Wednesday and Washington a day earlier.

CUB PACK 160 REORGANIZES

Two dens were formed at the reorganization meeting of Cub Pack 160 at Christ Lutheran Church Wednesday evening with the possibility of a third den being organized if enrollment requires it. Three new Cubs were enrolled Wednesday evening.

Den 1 will be led by Mrs. Betty Deitch and Tom Hodges will be the chief denner. The den meetings will be held each Thursday afternoon after school in the church basement.

Den 2 will be led by Mrs. Doris Adams with Mrs. Lois Keller as her assistant. That group will meet Wednesdays after school at the church.

The pack decided to enter a float in the Gettysburg Halloween parade and to hold pack meetings the last Wednesday of each month at the church. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weiland will be in charge of the October meeting.

Dew Gillan was awarded the wolf badge Wednesday evening. The new members added at the session were Bill Reinhart, Tommy Hess and Robert Boenau.

Boys in the community between the ages of eight and 11 who are interested in joining the pack should get in touch with Cubmaster Russell Schwartz.

Second Son Dies From Severe Burns

MILTON, Pa. (AP)—Joseph Wallace, 9, died today of injuries suffered Monday in a fire at Turbotville R. 1, which also cost the life of his baby brother, David, 19 months old.

Joseph died in Muncy Valley Hospital at Muncy, near Williamsport. The mother of the boys, Mrs. John Wallace, was reported in fair condition at the same hospital.

Mrs. Wallace suffered burns when she went to the rescue of the boys, who were trapped by fire in a barn where they had been playing.

FORFEIT FINES

Among those forfeiting fines recently in Westminster on motor code violation charges were: Charles E. Pfeffer, Littlestown, $5, failed to give right of way; Charles L. MOUNT TO AID GRID CLINICS

The local punt, pass and kick contest sponsored by the Ford Motor Co. and their distributor, Sperry's Sales and Services, Emmitsburg, will receive an assist this year from Mt. St. Mary's College and Seminary as members of the administration and student body have volunteered to serve as coaches and officials.

Under the leadership of Frank Ligorano, Cogan Union director, the services of Rev. Vincent A. Werl, former Pittsburgh Steelers pro footballer, and four former high school stars now in college have been engaged for the three weekend clinics. The collegians are Bill Dowd, North Catholic, Philadelphia; Jim O'Dare, Father Judge High, Philadelphia; Jim Kuliesh, Danbury High, Danbury, Conn., and George Gelles, Johnstown Catholic, Johnstown, Pa.

Rev. Mr. Werl, who is in his final year of study for the priesthood at the Mount Seminary, played with the Steelers in 1955. He was drafted into military service and played with the Ft. Jackson team in 1956 which won the post championship. In 1957 he was player-coach for the 24th Infantry Division team in Korea where he also coached the Korean all-star team. Werl played his collegiate ball at the University of Dayton where he was voted the most valuable player award in 1954. He entered the Mount in 1960 to study for the priesthood for his home diocese of Pittsburgh.

All youngsters wishing to register for the clinics and contest may do so at Sperry's or at the Emmitsburg ball diamond on the clinic days, September 28, October 5 and 12, between 1:30 and 2:30 p.m.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Sgt. Elgin Breaks Ankle In England: Staff Sgt. Eugene Elgin, East Berlin, is in a base hospital in England with a broken ankle, suffered just before he was to take part in an air mission over Europe, a letter to his parents reveals.

Sergeant Elgin expects to be in the hospital for about two months until the ankle heals, he said in the letter. The accident happened when Elgin went to his ship to prepare for the mission. In the dark he fell into a three-foot hole. The hospital in which he is stationed, is "one of the main hospitals for the Eighth Air Force," the letter says. Praise for both the doctors and nurses at the hospital is contained in the letter.

Paul L. Spangler, finance officer for the Albert J. Lentz post of the American Legion for the last two years, was named commander of the post at the annual election Monday evening. He succeeds C. Arthur Brame.

The new commander enlisted in the U.S. Navy, July 3, 1918, and served at League Island and Jefferson hospital, Philadelphia, as a hospital apprentice, first class. He was released in April, 1919, and served on the inactive list until 1922. He completes the second of two terms as finance officer this year and was finance officer of the post for two terms several years ago. He was also treasurer of the house committee this year.

New Restaurant For Biglerville: Biglerville will soon have a new business, with Melvin Ditzler, owner of the Biglerville Hotel apartments, planning to open a restaurant in that building.

Mr. Ditzler, former owner of Ditzler's appliance store in Gettysburg, sold the appliance store to Walter Trostle, East Middle street, Gettysburg, a week ago.

Donald A. Ullrich Is Made Ensign: Donald A. Ullrich, teacher at the Lincoln school for eight years until he entered the service in June, has been commissioned as an ensign in the Navy. He is spending a few days at his home here after which he will report to Fort Schuyler, New York, for further training.

After completing his boot training, he attended physical instructors' school for three weeks. Ensign Ullrich was head of the science department and basketball coach at the Lincoln school here.

Baldy's Head In GAR Hall: Meade's Horse: The head of one of the "heroes" of the Battle of Gettysburg has been stuffed and is on display at the GAR Memorial Hall at Philadelphia, an article in the Philadelphia Record discloses.

The hero who has been stuffed is a horse, "Baldy," the steed that General George G. Meade rode through the battle of Gettysburg and many another campaign of the Civil War. The horse was wounded at Gettysburg.

The Record has this to say of Meade's steed, which is one of the relics at the GAR Memorial museum there:

"On a wall is the head of a horse. It is that of Baldy, the fabulous mount of General George G. Meade. . . . Baldy started out in the war as the mount of General Baker, but was put into temporary retirement when he was wounded during the battle of Bull Run. After Baker's death, Baldy remained with the army, and during the Peninsular campaign in Virginia in 1862 he was purchased for $150 by General Meade.

"At Antietam, Baldy was shot from under General Meade and left for dead on the battlefield. He had been shot through the neck. Later he was found grazing in a field, and he carried Meade

Today's Talk

EVERYTHING COUNTS

It is easy for us to say: "Oh, this doesn't count." But everything counts. We cannot utter a word, perform an act, or even think a thought, without its counting somewhat, somehow, in the summing up of our experience. You do not have to know a person very long in order to classify him. Study him, listen to him, watch him — and you know what manner of man he is. You can almost select the names of the books he reads, and the caliber of his friends and companions.

In nature everything counts. There is not a single useless thing to be found in nature. Some things look useless enough in their corner — but they have a function to perform else the wise God would not have created them.

Nearly every happily successful man looks back to his boyhood days to experiences that he knows have done much to shape his later career.

The great and high purpose of Nature is to keep improving everything. Just think of all the steps Nature took before it could warrant the perfect flight of a bird! Just think over the steps that man has taken with his own invented flying bird of the air. Everything counts. The idea counts most of all.

There is something important being nourished in the human mind all the time. Your will to do is what reveals it to the world introducing it to the light, to serve its end. If you don't think that you count in the scheme of things in this world, no one else is going to think so either.

Just the moment you do think you count, that moment you join an immortal thing, striving upward.

Just Folks

THRIFT
I'm for thrift, but I can't see saving money needlessly for the rainy day to be.

Save your money, I should say for another rainy day; Save a bit to give away.

Thrift's the road to wealth, I've learned;
Money saved is money earned; Holes in pockets gold has burned.

But I'd say don't clench your fist And the muscles of your wrist Holding what will not be missed.

Save your money, so that when you encounter needy men, You can help them, now and then.

Save it so that you can spend In the service of a friend, Save a little just to lend.

Save to keep the wolf at bay, Save to merit the rainy day, But save a bit to give away.

WHITEY FORD TO OPEN SERIES FOR YANKEES

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—New York Yankee left-hander Whitey Ford, baseball's biggest World Series winner, will pitch the first game of the 1963 October classic, probably against Los Angeles' Sandy Koufax, at Yankee Stadium next Wednesday.

Yankee left-hander Al Downing and right-hander Jim Bouton will pitch the second and third games for the Yankees, manager Ralph Houk said today in making known his series plans. He did not specify the order of pitchers for the second and third games.

Houk said he would depend on just three starters, thus assigning Ralph Terry, pitching hero of the Yankees' 1962 World Series triumph, over San Francisco, to bullpen duty.

TO USE REGULARS

Houk also said he planned to play his eight regulars, including Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris, in every game without resorting to platooning.

"I'm going to go with the pitchers who have done the best job during the regular season," the Yankee skipper said.

The same starting line-up which defeated the Giants in seven games last October will open against Los Angeles regardless of who pitches for the Dodgers.

EXPECT KOUFAX

"I understand the Dodgers are going to go with three pitchers, too — Koufax, Podres and Drysdale," said Houk. "I talked with Alston (Dodger Manager Walter Alston) during a radio interview and he came right out and said Koufax would pitch the first game."

Ford, whose 24 victories matches Koufax, will be seeking his 11th World Series triumph in 'he opener. He has lost five. Koufax, who has appeared in two World Series games, dropped his only decision in 1959. He was beaten 1-0 by the Chicago White Sox.

QUEBEC (AP) — An investigation of purchases by Quebec Province's former Union Nationale government has resulted in charges of fraud and conspiracy involving a total of $309,000 in government funds.

Charges were filed Tuesday against former colonization minister J. D. Began; former highway minister Antonio Talbot; legislative councillor Gerald Martineau; Alfred Hardy, former director of government purchasing, and Arthur Bouchard, a Quebec city businessman.

Union Nationale, a party confined to Quebec, was defeated by the Liberals in the June 1960 provincial election.

Revolta Named To Golf Hall Of Fame

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP)—Johnny Revolta, known as the "doctor of golf professionals," was added today to the Professional Golfers Association Hall of Fame.

He joins 32 other golf greats previously honored. The latest was Ralph Guldahl, twice National Open champion selected earlier this month in a poll of the PGA membership.

Revolta was elected by present members of the Hall of Fame. He won 27 tournaments during his pro career. He has been professional at the Evanston Golf Club, Evanston, Ill., for 26 years.

CAUM LIKES NEW ROLE AS FIFTH BACK

By DAVE LEHERR

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—Don Caum came to Penn State as a highly rated quarterback, but he's a Z-back now and he couldn't like his new role better.

"I only wish someone had thought of this thing three years ago," laughs the crew-cut senior who spent his sophomore and junior years primarily as a defensive specialist for the Nittany Lions.

But now Caum is the key figure in Coach Rip Engle's surprise new offense—they call it the "Swing Shift" or "Swing T"—unveiled last weekend in Penn State's 17-7 upset over Oregon.

LIKE "LONELY END"

The 170-pounder from Harrisburg Central Dauphin is the fifth back in the Nittany Lion attack, playing a split end on either side of the line, much like Army's famous "lonely end."

Caum who came out of high school as one of the nation's most heralded quarterbacks likes the idea of catching passes instead of throwing them.

Better yet, he's playing offense. Caum was always a bridesmaid in the race for starting quarterback honors at State. First there was Galen Hall, then last year Pete Liske came into his own. Caum found himself on the third unit, with only spotty shots at offensive action.

"Caum's a great runner," says backfield coach Joe Paterno, pointing to the many times last year when the chunky blonde was sent in to run and picked up valuable yardage.

Migrant Is Held In Shotgun Slaying

YORK, Pa. (AP)—Edward Williams, a 31-year-old migrant laborer from Fort Valley, Ga., will face a York County grand jury in December on a charge of murder in the shotgun slaying of another man Sept. 14.

Williams was held for the grand jury Wednesday by Alderman H. Gellard Fickes. He is accused of killing another crew foreman, Seab Shepherd of Pittman R. 1, Schuylkill County, in a dispute over work.

The shooting occurred at the Maple Lawn Farms, New Park.

DANNY KAYE SCORES WITH HIS PREMIERE

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—The product —and the only one—of a comedian is the laughter of his audience. Danny Kaye is a great comedian because he can evoke laughter in so many different ways.

Wednesday night in his premiere show on CBS, the red-haired pixie sang an amusing song with a pantomime accompaniment by a high stool that magically followed him around the stage. Then he followed up with a sketch that went on a little too long about a nervous man on his first plane ride.

The big production number was a demonstration of how a baseball song would be written by Lerner and Loewe, Leonard Bernstein and Meredith Willson.

One sketch about an instrumental group was slapstick that did not come off at all. But generally it was a delightful show with a nice easy swing to it.

The kindest thing one can do for "Glynis" the other CBS premiere of the evening is to ignore it and hope that it will go away—quietly.

An alleged mystery-comedy, it was so broad and corny that one felt sorry for capable Glynis Johns and handsome Keith Andes, its stars.

For the first time in almost two weeks, there will be no new programs making their debuts to night. However, CBS' "Password" starts its season on a new night and hour (7:30-8 Eastern Daylight Time) with Lucille Ball and her husband, Gary Morton, as guest players. Both NBC's "Dr. Kildare" and CBS' "Perry Mason" have season premieres. Perry will perform his courtroom tricks an hour later this season (9-10).

GIVES VIEWS ON INCOME TAXES

NEW CASTLE, Pa. (AP)—The state constitution should be rewritten with precise wording to outlaw a graduated income tax, Gov. Scranton says.

Scranton, in a talk before the New Castle Chamber of Commerce Wednesday night, said the present tax provision in the constitution could be interpreted by the courts to allow a graduated tax.

"Our present constitution is soft on the income tax question," said Scranton, who is opposed to a graduated income tax. "Those who are opposed to a graduated income tax ought to be the most ardent supporters of a constitutional convention."

Pennsylvania voters will be asked at the polls Nov. 5 whether a convention should be called to rewrite the constitution. Scranton supports the convention approach.

The Pennsylvania Constitution states that "All taxes shall be uniform upon the same class of subjects." Fourteen states with similar constitutional provisions have won court endorsement of a graduated income tax.

Fires Hole In One On Caledonia Course

Barry A. Frazee, 23, of 174 Early Ave., shot his second hole-in-one during six years of golfing Wednesday afternoon at the Caledonia Golf Course.

Frazee, playing in a foursome, registered his ace on the par four 265-yard 14th hole.

Two years ago he made a hole-in-one on a par three 185-yard hole on a course in Dallas, Tex.

SANDY KOUFAX EXPECTED TO START SERIES

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dodger Manager Walt Alston hasn't formally announced his World Series pitching rotation, but you can skip the formalities and safely assume it will be Sandy Koufax, Johnny Podres and Don Drysdale.

They're probably the only pitchers who will start for Los Angeles, even if the series goes seven games.

Koufax, of course, will start the series opener in New York next Wednesday against Whitey Ford. Podres will work the second game, also in New York, presumably against Al Downing.

Drysdale will start the first game in Los Angeles a week from Saturday, probably against Jim Bouton.

Podres gets into the rotation ahead of Drysdale for two reasons. First, John has given the Yankees trouble before — notably in the 1955 series, when he beat them twice. Second, Podres is a left-hander, New York has several strong left-handed hitters and the right-field seats at Yankee Stadium are almost within field goal range of home plate. At Dodger Stadium, the distance to the wall is the same in either direction.

Left-hander Ron Peralta, the National League's foremost relief pitcher, will be joined in the Dodger bullpen by Larry Sherry, Ken Rowe, Bob Miller, Pete Richter and Dick Calmus. The last three have been used both as starters and relievers, but are not likely to start in the series unless one of the top three starters is hurt or woefully ineffective in the early games.

NFL FROWNS ON GAME WITH AFL

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Football League has quashed an informal proposal by the rival American League that the two leagues meet in a post-season championship playoff.

"We have no plans for such a game," was the only answer of NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle.

The comment came after AFL Commissioner Joe Foss said Wednesday his league might make a formal proposal to the NFL for a playoff in 1964.

"We have indicated in the past that we would like to meet them in a playoff," said Foss at a press luncheon. "Always in the past, their answer has been 'We don't consider playing games with people who are suing us.' We sued them because we thought our case had merit, but we lost. Now that is out of the way."

The AFL lost an appeal Monday on its $10-million monopoly suit against the NFL.

The 4-year-old AFL has made numerous overtures in the past to the 44-year-old NFL about a playoff game, but nothing has ever been formally proposed. And the NFL always has refused to elaborate on its "We have no plans for such a game" statement.

If the AFL should decide to make a formal proposal it would likely be made in late January.

Camp Hill Hosts Warriors Saturday; Cannors, Bolts Squires At Home On Friday

All five county scholastic varsity football teams will have identical goals this weekend when they attempt to get into the victory column. Four of the teams were defeated in their last outings while Littlestown was forced to accept a tie.

Plenty of action will be offered Friday when four of the schools have engagements. The first game of the day will be played Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock when Bermudian Springs opposes James Buchanan at Mercersburg. Friday evening games at 8 o'clock include Boiling Springs at Biglerville, West York at Littlestown and Lancaster Catholic at Delone.

Gettysburg High has a Saturday afternoon engagement at Camp Hill, the kickoff being slated for 2 o'clock.

GETTYSBURG AT CAMP HILL

After being keenly disappointed in losing at Shippensburg when the offense bogged down, Coach Don Young and his Warrior coaching staff have been working hard in attempting to develop a better attack to throw at the unbeaten Lions in their Blue Mountain League encounter.

There may be several changes in the Gettysburg lineup and Nelson Wansel and Carl Harvey, backs, are expected to see much more duty.

Jim Newman, quarterback, who had two teeth knocked out in the Greyhound game, will be ready for full-time duty. No other injuries were sustained.

Young feels his squad made too many mistakes at crucial times against Shippensburg despite playing a hard-hitting game. Ironing out the errors was a major feature of this week's drills.

Camp Hill has established itself as a top contender for the BML title this season. The Lions whipped Susquehanna 18-6 and nipped Biglerville 14-6 in their two league scraps. In their non-league opener, the Lions battled Susquehanna, coached by Ben Jones, former Gettysburg mentor, to a 6-6 deadlock.

Laurie Roberts, 165, is the big gun in the Camp Hill attack and the Warriors will have to halt him if they hope to win. The Lions have plenty of speed in the backfield in such runners as Tim Polk, Bob Coover and Dave Shahian, as well as Roberts. All of the backs are letter winners.

On the line Don Johnson, end; Bob Bulota and Bob Cornman, tackles, and Joe Robb, center, are holdovers from last season.

BOILING SPRINGS AT BIGLERVILLE

When the Bubblers and Cannors tangle there usually is a spirited struggle and Friday night's contest is expected to be no exception.

Coach Jack Emanuel of Biglerville is seeking a better outside running offense and has been concentrating on that during the past week. He feels his squad encountered a let-down after battling favored Big Springs to a tie a week before bowing to Camp Hill and expects the Cannors to be "up" for the coming game.

Jerry Lady, center, who played only briefly last Friday due to a previous injury, is ready for full time work and is expected to be the snapper-back on all punting and extra point try situations.

All Canner squad members escaped injury last week and full manpower will be available. No change is anticipated in the lineup.

Boiling Springs, after losing 12 consecutive Blue Mountain League games, edged Newport 6-0 last Saturday for its first league triumph since 1961. Prior to that win the Bubblers lost to Manheim Central 34-0 and Gettysburg 28-0.

The big strength of Boiling Springs is in the backfield where Art Brandt, Larry Shenk, Tom Hunt, Dick Clepper and Dick Lebo are all lettermen. Nine more lettermen are linemen giving the Cumberland Countians an experienced squad.

WEST YORK AT LITTLESTOWN

Another disappointed coach last week was Bill Heyser of the Littlestown Thunderbolts who felt his squad underwent a letdown and were too confident at Susquehanna where they played a 7-7 tie.

That is not likely to be the case Friday evening when the

ST. FRANCIS PARISH FORMS ATHLETIC BODY

An athletic council of the St. Francis Xavier parish has been organized to set up athletic programs for the parish.

Officers will be elected and permanent meeting dates set after all interested men of the parish have indicated their desire to serve on the council. At present meetings are held each Tuesday evening. There will be a special meeting next Wednesday evening.

The purpose of the council includes directing the athletic program, soliciting of donations from church organizations and sponsoring other fund-raising activities and appointing coaches and assistants for various approved athletic teams.

SPONSOR GRID TEAM

At present the council is sponsoring a parochial school football team in the Conewago League which has won one and lost one. Next Sunday the Red Raiders oppose Bonneauville at 1:30 p.m. on the Delone field at McSherrytown where all league games are played.

Tentative plans call for sponsoring a school basketball team, church softball and church bowling teams. Discussions have been held concerning an adult men's night to use the gymnasium as well as girls' intramural basketball.

The athletic committee will be in charge of the weekly party in the school cafeteria Wednesday, October 2. Members will sell booster club certificates to all interested persons at $1 each as a part of the drive to raise funds.

Patrick D. McDermitt heads the publicity committee for the new organization.

With seven of eight lettermen returning plus some promising newcomers, the 1963 outlook for the Gettysburg College cross-country team is bright. The Bullets open their season Saturday afternoon in a 12:30 o'clock clash with Juniata on the Gettysburg Country Club course.

Following an absence of several years from the intercollegiate scene, cross-country was reactivated on the Gettysburg campus in 1958. During that time the Bullets, under the direction of head coach Hal Glad, have built a squad respected by all in the Middle Atlantic Conference. The battlefield harriers went through the 10-meet 1962 season with a 9-1 record, the lone setback coming at the hands of Temple by a single point.

Glad will have his entire team back from a year ago with the exception of number five man, Pete Herslow, who is on probation. Seniors Jim Lombardi, Montclair, N.J., and Ed Salmon, Lemoyne, pace setters for the past two seasons, will receive plenty of competition from Senior Bob Linders, Haworth, N.J. Lombardi captured nine of 10 first places last season and, in doing so, broke five opponents' course records and set both the Gettysburg course and school mark. He covered his home four-mile layout in 21:40.2 minutes.

Salmon, who held the top spot as a Sophomore, fell to the number two berth throughout 1962, but is capable of moving out first. Linders, unable to run a year ago, is being counted on to push Lombardi and Salmon. His main asset is the ability to pace himself and consequently having plenty of reserved power for a strong finish.

Glad will also be counting on the return of Dave Bloomer, Phoenixville; Roger Malehorn, Philadelphia; Jerry Staub and Tom Black, both from Springfield, and Bob Loomis, Lebanon, N.J. Chris Hayden, South Salem, N.Y., and Connie Snyder, Philadelphia, will also bolster the squad. Both men will be running for the first time.

Juniata will provide a stiff opener for the Bullets. Coach Mike Snider's Indians have lost but two meets over the last seven years. Since 1958, Juniata has won all four engagements against Gettysburg. Jeff Johnson, a Gettysburg High School graduate, is a member of the squad. The two schools did not meet last year.

The Bullet schedule: September 28, Juniata, home; October 5, American U., home; 9, Delaware Valley, home; 12, Temple, home; 16, Susquehanna, away; 19, Mt. St. Mary's Invitational; 23, Johns Hopkins, home; 25, Franklin and Marshall, away; 30, Dickinson, home; November 2, Lafayette, home; 6, Elizabethtown, home; 9, Delaware, home.

Art Mahaffey, making his first appearance since he injured his foot in a game here July 30, came in to relieve starter Ray Culp. Mahaffey was credited with the victory, No. 7 against 10 defeats.

Orlando Cepeda had a three-run home run in the first inning for the Giants.

The loser was Billy Pierce, whose record is 3-11.

GOOD SEASON ANTICIPATED IN X-COUNTRY

With seven of eight lettermen returning plus some promising newcomers, the 1963 outlook for the Gettysburg College cross-country team is bright. The Bullets open their season Saturday afternoon in a 12:30 o'clock clash with Juniata on the Gettysburg Country Club course.

Following an absence of several years from the intercollegiate scene, cross-country was reactivated on the Gettysburg campus in 1958. During that time the Bullets, under the direction of head coach Hal Glad, have built a squad respected by all in the Middle Atlantic Conference. The battlefield harriers went through the 10-meet 1962 season with a 9-1 record, the lone setback coming at the hands of Temple by a single point.

Glad will have his entire team back from a year ago with the exception of number five man, Pete Herslow, who is on probation. Seniors Jim Lombardi, Montclair, N.J., and Ed Salmon, Lemoyne, pace setters for the past two seasons, will receive plenty of competition from Senior Bob Linders, Haworth, N.J. Lombardi captured nine of 10 first places last season and, in doing so, broke five opponents' course records and set both the Gettysburg course and school mark. He covered his home four-mile layout in 21:40.2 minutes.

Salmon, who held the top spot as a Sophomore, fell to the number two berth throughout 1962, but is capable of moving out first. Linders, unable to run a year ago, is being counted on to push Lombardi and Salmon. His main asset is the ability to pace himself and consequently having plenty of reserved power for a strong finish.

Glad will also be counting on the return of Dave Bloomer, Phoenixville; Roger Malehorn, Philadelphia; Jerry Staub and Tom Black, both from Springfield, and Bob Loomis, Lebanon, N.J. Chris Hayden, South Salem, N.Y., and Connie Snyder, Philadelphia, will also bolster the squad. Both men will be running for the first time.

Juniata will provide a stiff opener for the Bullets. Coach Mike Snider's Indians have lost but two meets over the last seven years. Since 1958, Juniata has won all four engagements against Gettysburg. Jeff Johnson, a Gettysburg High School graduate, is a member of the squad. The two schools did not meet last year.

The Bullet schedule: September 28, Juniata, home; October 5, American U., home; 9, Delaware Valley, home; 12, Temple, home; 16, Susquehanna, away; 19, Mt. St. Mary's Invitational; 23, Johns Hopkins, home; 25, Franklin and Marshall, away; 30, Dickinson, home; November 2, Lafayette, home; 6, Elizabethtown, home; 9, Delaware, home.

Art Mahaffey, making his first appearance since he injured his foot in a game here July 30, came in to relieve starter Ray Culp. Mahaffey was credited with the victory, No. 7 against 10 defeats.

Eagles Sign New Offensive Guard

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League have signed offensive guard Bill Byrne, 22, a Boston College alumnus.

The Eagles signed Byrne, a 6-foot-240-pounder, Wednesday in an effort to beef up their offense. Two guards are out of the lineup with injuries.

Byrne, of Montclair, N.J., joined the Eagles as a rookie in 1962. He suffered a back injury during training at Hershey, Pa., and did not play last year. The Eagles brought him back earlier this year, but released him in August.

WILLIE MAYS IS ON HITTING BINGE TO GET IN TITLE RACE

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — In his 22 years with the St. Louis Cardinals, Stan The Man Musial has proved himself as one of the genuinely great players of baseball.

No one bothers to argue that point any more. Wherever you choose to look, you can find evidence supporting the belief that Musial, through the years, has been the greatest star in National League history. Other players use him as their model. His employers use him as a showpiece for their organization. At the sunset of a glorious career, the 42-year-old wonder is still one of the most feared and respected hitters in all baseball.

Willie went 4-for-4 Wednesday—a triple, two doubles and a single—although the Giants were beaten by Philadelphia 6-4, and powered himself right into the middle of the scrap for the National League batting title.

ON 13-GAME STREAK
Mays was hitting .301 when he was sidelined, and in a phenomenal climb since then he has raised his average to .317. He's currently on a 13-game hitting streak, 25-for-53 and a .472 clip.

Ahead of Mays in the scramble for the batting crown are: Defending champion Tommy Davis of the pennant-winning Los Angeles Dodgers—he's at .323 after two singles in three trips in a 1-0 triumph over the New York Mets. Sandy Koufax won his 25th in that one, and became the fourth pitcher in major league history to strike out 300 in one season.

CARDS BEAT CUBS
Dick Groat of St. Louis—batting .320 after two hits in five tries as the second-place Cardinals ended a six-game losing string by beating the Chicago Cubs 5-2.

Orlando Cepeda of the Giants—whacked a three-run homer in four appearances and has a .319 mark. His blow was matched by a three-run pinch hit homer by Don Demeter and a two-run shot by Johnny Callison in a seventh-inning rally that gave the Phils the victory.

Hank Aaron of the Milwaukee Braves—got his 43rd homer for a .318 average, helping Warren Spahn beat the Cincinnati Reds 9-5. Spahn, 27.7 for the year and with 349 victories in a magnificent career, also homered.

CLEMENTE SLIPS
And Roberto Clemente of the Pittsburgh Pirates—went 1-for-4 in a 2-1 defeat at Houston and slipped to .318. The Colts took this one with a two-run uprising in the seventh after being blanked on two hits by Tom Sisk through six.

New York's American League champion Yankees took only one hour and 38 minutes to dispose of the Los Angeles Angels 3-1. Hard-throwing Jim Bouton warmed up for a World Series start with a seven-inning workout for his 21st victory, allowing three hits and facing only 15 men in his last five innings.

Bob Saverine, in his last game before starting a six-month Army hitch, got three hits and batted in two runs in leading Baltimore to a 10-2 romp over Chicago. White Sox rookie Gary Peters was rocked in his bid to become a 20-game winner.

Also in the AL—Ken Retzer, a .227 batter, rapped out four hits and knocked in five runs, leading Washington to a 6-2 victory over Detroit, and Ed Charles' sacrifice fly in the seventh inning delivered the clinching run as Kansas City edged Boston 7-6. Minnesota and Cleveland were not scheduled.

Koufax worked five shutout innings in the Dodgers' close one over the Mets, with eight strikeouts extending his NL record to 306. The lone run in the game came in the first when Wally Moon and Tommy Davis singled, and Moon scored on a wild pickoff attempt by Roger Craig.

"If men were angels, no government would be necessary," James Madison once pointed out. But Madison and the political leaders of his generation were practical men, and so it happened that on September 17, 1787, he and 38 other state representatives put their signatures to the Constitution of the United States of America.

The ceremony climaxed some months of work, mostly unauthorized, for the delegates to the Philadelphia convention had been empowered only to revise the Articles of Confederation. In fact, Patrick Henry, who opposed a stronger national government, had refused to attend the convention because, as he later put it, "I smelt a rat."

Under these circumstances, and to ensure that each delegate would have the fullest freedom of speech during the debates, the convention ruled that its proceedings would be kept absolutely secret. Sentries were posted at the doors to the meeting hall. The anxious delegates even appointed one of their number to accompany the 81-year-old Benjamin Franklin to his so-called dinners, to make sure he did not let slip any mention of the debates during a friendly conversation.

It wasn't until 1819, when the first journal of the convention was printed, that the American public learned of the proceedings.

Nevertheless, gossip was rampant and, at one point during that summer, reports circulated of wide disagreement among the delegates. Apparently the convention members decided on counterpropaganda, for one newspaper reported, "So great is the unanimity, we hear, that prevails in the Convention . . . that it has been proposed to call the room in which they assemble—Unanimity Hall."

When September 17 arrived, however, and the committee on style presented the finished document to the convention, three delegates refused to sign. To conceal this fact, a note added to the document read: "Done in Convention, by the unanimous consent of the States present. . ."

The Constitution was hotly debated when it was submitted to the states for ratification, and even those who had signed it had their doubts. Ben Franklin probably summed up the feelings of the 39 signers . . . and of all those who have since admired the Constitution . . . when he said, "I consent, sir, to this Constitution, because I expect no better, and because I am not sure that it is not the best."

James Madison is known as the "Father of the Constitution." Madison's ideas were embodied in the Virginia plan, which became the basis for the Constitution, and his speeches and attempts at compromise often kept the constitutional convention from breaking up.

The U. S. Constitution was actually written by Gouverneur Morris, a Pennsylvania delegate to the constitutional convention, who was given the job of putting all the convention's resolutions into polished form.

Rhode Island was the only state that refused to participate in the constitutional convention of 1787.

Delaware was the first state to ratify the U.S. Constitution . . . and North Carolina and Rhode Island were the last. Rhode Island and North Carolina refused to take part in the new government until the first Congress had begun to adopt a bill of rights.

F. E. SHAFFER DIES
BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Dr. Floyd E. Shaffer, 74, of Bethlehem, Pa., retired medical director of Bethlehem Steel Co., died Tuesday of a heart attack in Union Memorial Hospital here.

A native of Topeka, Kan., Dr. Shaffer joined the steel firm in 1917 as assistant surgeon at the Bethlehem plant. He was later assigned to the Sparrows Point, Md., plant, where he was in charge of all medical operations in the Baltimore area.

He returned to the Bethlehem office as assistant medical director in 1949 and was named medical director in 1950. He retired December, 1961.

BIG BUYER IS STILL MISSING IN WHEAT FUSS

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—In all the hub-bub over a possible sale of U.S. wheat to the Soviet Union, at least one element is officially lacking: The big buyer.

Czechoslovakia, a member of the Soviet bloc has approached the United States on the chance of a wheat deal. But Agriculture and State Department officials insist that the Soviet Union itself has made no move, either directly or indirectly.

However, action of President Kennedy in requesting two House committees to discuss the matter with two Cabinet members today was open to the interpretation that the government had knowledge that an offer was on the way.

TALK OF HUGE SALE

The House Agriculture and Foreign Affairs Committees will go over the matter with Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman and Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges.

Two farm-minded senators—Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., and George T. Aiken, R-Vt.—told newsmen they had heard from commercial and private trade sources that the Communists want to buy as much as 200 million bushels of wheat and a quantity of feed grain.

Generally, it has been taken for granted that the Communists would buy American grain only if they could get it at the cut-rate price at which it is sold to friendly countries under an export subsidy program.

PRICE MAY BE ISSUE

That price is about 60 cents a bushel below the domestic price. Commerce Department regulations deny benefit of the subsidy to the Soviet bloc.

The domestic price is supported above world levels by a farm price support program. There is nothing in the laws or regulations that would keep the Soviets from buying all the wheat they wanted at the domestic price. Obviously they do not want to pay that much.

A matter to be settled is whether congressional action is necessary.

HIT SOME SNAGS

Chairman Allen J. Ellender, D-La., of the Senate Agriculture Committee, said action by Congress may be necessary. But Agriculture Department lawyers have leaned in the other direction. The talks private American interests have been carrying on in Ottawa, Canada, about the possibility of a big grain deal with the Soviet Union have hit some snags.

The Peavey Co., a large Midwestern milling and grain firm, said Wednesday it had sent representatives to Ottawa with the understanding that an Agriculture Department spokesman would be participating. But when none showed up Peavey withdrew its officials.

SCOTT WARNS ABOUT SOVIETS

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., says the United States must continue to "negotiate from strength with the Soviets," and warned that it was at times "when there seems to be an easing of the conflict... that we run the greatest risks."

Speaking to the annual Tri-County Conference Wednesday night, the Senator said the United States should not give the Russians the false impression, "that we believe the Cold War is all thawed out."

He said he reluctantly supported the nuclear test ban treaty, although he was apprehensive "of the risks involved."

Scott said "I gave my support to the treaty because it will provide at least a continuation of the present respite from contamination of the air by deadly nuclear fall-out, and because the President has given the Senate 'unqualified and unequivocal answers' that the U.S. security will be protected under the treaty."

Two Boys Cited For Heroic Actions

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Carnegie Hero Fund Commission has cited two Pennsylvania teenagers for their saving two boys from drowning in separate incidents.

Bronze medals and $500 each were awarded Wednesday to E. Kurt Slavin, 13, of nearby Duquesne and Linda F. Schmidt, 16, of Pittsburgh who were among 20 persons cited for heroism.

Slavin dove into St. Francis Lake at Loretto, Cambria County, June 3 and rescued John A. Dubich, 13, who had suffered a stomach cramp. Miss Schmidt saved Richard A. Rocco, 10, last June when he stepped into deep water while wading in the Allegheny River.

Harvard freshmen were unbeaten during the last year in football, heavyweight and lightweight crew racing, tennis and outdoor track.

Favor Amendment On Student Loans

HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania's two U.S. senators, Democrat Joseph S. Clark and Republican Hugh Scott, have joined in urging public support of a proposed constitutional amendment authorizing state loans to college students.

They made the appeal as honorary co-chairmen of the state committee for Higher Education Loan Plan (HELP).

The amendment is on the Nov. 5 ballot. If approved, it would establish a loan program for college students who are state residents and can show a financial need.

CALLS BOXING SAFEST OF ALL MAJOR SPORTS

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Contrary to public opinion there are less serious injuries in boxing than in any other body contact sport, a Pennsylvania state Athletic Commission physician reports.

Dr. Alfred Ayella Jr., medical examiner for the commission, backs up his contention with statistics over a 10-year period in an article in the September issue of the Journal of the Pennsylvania Medical Society.

A member of the staffs of Hahnemann and St. Agnes Hospitals here and chief surgeon designate of a new hospital under construction, Dr. Ayella says boxing's perils to life and physical well being are grossly exaggerated in the public mind.

REFUTES CHARGES

He refutes the oft repeated charges that (1) fatal injuries in the ring are exorbitant in proportion to the number of participants (2), that boxers are more injury prone than athletes in other physical contact sports, and (3) that so-called punch drunkenness is the inevitable result of a fighting career.

"Most of the adverse statements," Dr. Ayella writes, "have been based for the most part on impressions and theoretical concepts. Some physicians who have written on the subject have admitted that their views have been founded on statements given to them by laymen."

He points out that a kayoed boxer is prohibited from competing for at least 30 days, often longer. In other sports, however, notably football, he says, a player suffering a concussion is sent back into action in the same contest after a brief rest.

Dr. Ayella claims that the National Board of Insurance Underwriters lists six other sports as more hazardous than boxing.

In 3,254 bouts in this state, between September, 1953, and March, 31, 1963, there occurred one death resulting from combat injury, he said.

Jailer Greets 2 Sawing Prisoners

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Two prisoners worked hard Wednesday sawing through a steel wall in City Jail. But when the hole they made was big enough to peek through, they stared straight into the face of Jailer Buford Hill. He had heard their sawing.

Even if Edward Louis and Sam R. Scruggs had completed the job they wouldn't have gotten anywhere. Their hole opened to a plumbing-utility room leading only to the first of several locked doors.

Hersh Remains In Critical Condition

HARRISBURG (AP)—Injured stock car driver Bobby Hersh remained unconscious and in critical condition today at Harrisburg Hospital, suffering from head injuries.

Hersh was hurt Sunday when his car spun out of control during the feature race and flipped into the air at the Williams Grove Speedway.

The New Oxford driver was taken to Carlisle Hospital after the crash, then transferred here. The mishap occurred when the throttle on Hersh's car stuck as he was making a turn.

TO REDUCE FARES

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Fares on the Pennsylvania Railroad's Paoli and Media locals for rides within the city limits will be reduced to 30 cents effective Oct. 28, Mayor James Tate announced Wednesday.

Rates currently are 44 cents on the Paoli local from Overbrook and 36 cents from the 52nd street station. The Media line rate is now 36 cents from both the Angorra and 49th street stations.

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—J. Frank Dobie, who calls himself the "best college professor ever to get on a horse," was 75 years old today. He planned a quiet observance at his home in Austin.

Dobie, former professor of English at the University of Texas, has written about 30 books on the folklore of Texas and Mexico.

GUGLIELMI TO LOSE PENSION; QUILTS PRO BALL

NEW YORK (AP)—Ralph Guglielmi has made his last play as a professional football player, kicking away more than a $100-a-week pension he could have claimed merely by showing up for one game with the San Francisco 49ers.

Traded to the 49ers by the New York Giants earlier in the week, the 29-year-old former Notre Dame All-America decided Wednesday to retire. In doing so, he passed up an estimated $437 monthly pension, or $5,244 a year, he would start receiving at age 65.

CITES INJUSTICE

Guglielmi said he was aware of the pension but he had been refused a no-cut contract by San Francisco and "would have been doing a grave injustice to myself and to the 49ers if I went out there just to play one game and be sure of a pension."

Guglielmi, a quarterback in the National Football League since 1955 at Washington, St. Louis and New York, said he would return to his insurance business in Washington, D.C.

Under the NFL's pension plan, a player must be on the active roster for at least three games a year in five years, starting in 1959, to become eligible. Guglielmi had played two games this year—and needed one more to qualify.

Cop Testifies At Lillian Reis Trial

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Patrolman Edward Daw testified he was solicited immorally by one of the employees at the Celebrity Room night club on April 3.

Daw testified Wednesday at the trial of Lillian Reis, former operator of the club, and three other defendants who have been indicted on 20 counts.

Miss Reis is charged with receiving stolen goods, conspiracy and permitting undesirables in her club.

The other defendants are Gabriel Staino, 24, identified as the club's manager; Sharon Levin, 21, and Theresa Sands, 23, club employees.

Daw testified Miss Levin asked him if he wanted a good time "sexwise" and that she stole money from him. The policeman also testified Miss Sands tried to hit him with a whisky bottle.

SENATE GROUP SEEKS RETURN OF FUGITIVES

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee took a step Wednesday aimed toward making effective an extradition treaty with Brazil—now a haven for a number of U.S. citizens accused of fleeing there with wealth amassed through fraud.

The committee also approved extradition treaties with Israel and Sweden and consular conventions with Korea and Japan.

As to Brazil, the committee approved an addition to a 1961 extradition treaty which Brazil has never ratified. The U.S. Senate ratified it May 16, 1961.

Leonard C. Meeker, State Department deputy legal adviser, told the committee that Brazil is unwilling to ratify the treaty without an additional protocol making clear that the treaty does not require Brazil to surrender its own nationals to the United States.

COMMITTEE BACKING

The committee approved the additional protocol. If the Senate also approves it, Brazil presumably will ratify the treaty and clear the way for the return to the United States of some fugitives from charges in this country.

In 1961, when the Senate was considering the original treaty, Abram Chayes, the State Department's chief legal adviser, mentioned these fugitives in Brazil: Lowell M. Birrell, charged in New York State and federal court with "defrauding the stockholders of Doeskin and Swan-Finch Corp. of some $14 million...," and also under indictment in California; Ben Jack Gage, convicted in Texas of embezzlement; and Earle Flegler Belle, of Pittsburgh, under indictment for fraud and also wanted by the State of Pennsylvania.

SIGN PACT ON RACIAL ISSUE

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The city's Human Relations Commission has signed a pact with seven unions, the AFL-CIO Human Rights Committee and the Negro Trade Leadership Council, pledging nondiscriminatory employment practices in greater Philadelphia's printing industry.

The agreement, signed Wednesday, affects about 15,000 workers. It pledges nondiscrimination in the employment and union membership of journeymen and apprentices. It also creates a committee to handle matters related to industry-wide efforts assuring equality of hiring.

Unions signing were Philadelphia Typographical Union No. 2, Amalgamated Lithographers of America Local 14, Philadelphia Printing Pressmen's Union, No. 4, Philadelphia Press Assistants

Blind Veteran First To Benefit

HARRISBURG (AP)—A Lebanon County man who lost his sight as an American soldier in the invasion of southern France in 1944 is the first beneficiary of Pennsylvania's new blind veterans pension program.

Samuel H. Sterner of Jonestown R. 2, received a check for $50 Wednesday from state Adjutant Gen. Thomas R. White Jr. at ceremonies in Harrisburg.

The new law passed by the 1963 legislature provides a $50 monthly pension to Pennsylvania veterans blinded in a war.

CYCLIST SEES UPSWING IN RACE MATTERS

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—James Johnson, a self-styled cross-country racial observer, says a bicycle trip across the nation convinces him that racial relations are on the upswing.

"This trip across this wonderful country of ours has proved to me that things are changing, things are getting better for my race," said Johnson, 45, a Negro gardener from California.

He was interviewed Wednesday as he pushed his bicycle up a steep hill in this Western Pennsylvania city.

"GOING ALL RIGHT"

It all began Sept. 8 when Johnson decided to peddle from his San Diego home up the California coast during his vacation from a job with the San Diego County Parks and Recreation Dept.

Once on the road, however, he decided to go across the country and check on racial relations. His destination is his hometown of Perth Amboy, N. J.

"The racial situation has changed," he says. "Things are going to be all right. It's just going to take a little time, that's all, but things will work out okay."

PLAN APPEAL IN BLAIR CO.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—A petition by the Blair County Democratic Committee contending that William Prosser was improperly slated as the Republican candidate for mayor has been rejected in Common Pleas Court.

The Democrats claimed that under the election code the Altoona GOP could not slate a substitute candidate after Sept. 9, or 55 days before the election.

Prosser was named Sept. 17 after City Councilman Robert Smay withdrew from the Nov. 5 election.

Judge John M. Klepser dismissed the petition Wednesday on the grounds that the election code is "ambiguous and inconsistent" on the point of contention. He added that the 55-day provision is intended to serve as a guideline.

John Stawmire, solicitor for the Democratic committee, said the ruling would be appealed.

Wedding

Bair-Eslinger

Miss Bonnie Lee Eslinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Eslinger, 930 Bradford Rd., Harrisburg, and Larry James Bair, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theron M. Bair, Littlestown R. 2, were united in marriage Sunday at 3 p.m. in Grace Methodist Church, Harrisburg. The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Sheridan Watson Bell.

Robert Clippinger was organist and played the traditional wedding marches. He also accompanied the soloist, Donald Murphy, who sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Because." The church altar was decorated with bouquets of white mums. The acolytes were Keith Eslinger, Etters, and David Bair, Littlestown R. 2, brother of the bridegroom.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in a floor-length gown of white silk organza. The bodice and sleeves were accented with Italian lace trim. Her bouffant skirt ended in a chapel train. Her fingertip bluish veil fell from a crown of seed pearls and organza. She carried a white prayerbook, topped with a white orchid.

IN WEDDING PARTY

Mrs. Donald Wohlfarth, Bradford Rd., Harrisburg, was matron of honor. She wore a light blue gown, fashioned with a bell-shaped floor-length detachable overskirt in controlled fullness. She had a matching crown and a face veil. She carried a crescent bouquet of "azalea pink" mums.

The bridesmaids were Miss Karen Foltz and Miss Nancy Wagenseller, both of Harrisburg, and both college friends of the bride. They were attired in ensembles to match that worn by Mrs. Wohlfarth.

The bridegroom chose his brother, Dale E. Bair, Littlestown R. 2, for his best man. The ushers were Donald Bair, Littlestown R. 2, brother of the groom; Clay A. Rebert, Littlestown; Dennis Levering, Ephrata, and Richard Lowell, Lancaster, fraternity brothers of the groom.

RECEPTION FOR 200

The bride's mother was attired in a pink brocade fitted dress with matching tailored coat and accessories. She had a corsage of pink orchids. The mother of the bridegroom wore moss green dress with black accessories and a corsage of lemon colored orchids.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church social hall. Approximately

Letter To The Editor

GETTYSBURG COLLEGE

Gettysburg

Office of the President

September 23, 1963

Mr. Paul L. Roy, Editor

THE GETTYSBURG TIMES

Gettysburg, Pennsylvania

Dear Mr. Roy:

We are appreciative of your efforts and those of your staff in bringing to the community through the College Edition of the Gettysburg Times the current view of Gettysburg College. I am sure that your readers gain through this medium a composite picture of the college which is interesting and informative to them.

I would appreciate if you would convey to the members of your staff our appreciation for the talent and effort which was devoted to this edition.

Sincerely,
C. A. Hanson

Valley Stream, New York

September 21, 1963

Dear Sir:

Today the nicest thing happened to me. The Gettysburg Times sent us a copy of their College Edition.

I spent a pleasant afternoon reading it. After being happy to have received it I began to think how many parents have received the paper and felt the way I do and might take a few minutes to say, "thanks." You know, I believe that most of our trouble in this world today is nobody has time to say "good job, well done." My daughter, if she knew I was writing this and I'll never tell her, would say, "Oh! Mom. No."

In a final note, don't stop sending the College Edition to the parents of new freshmen. The fathers "Bless them" will say business, but the mothers, even though you won't get a written reply, will thank you in their hearts.

"Good job, well done."

Very truly yours,

Adele Mentz

200 wedding guests were in attendance.

The newlyweds have gone to housekeeping at 75 E. King St., Shippensburg.

Mrs. Bair is a 1962 graduate of Central Dauphin High School, Harrisburg, and attended Shippensburg State College. Her husband was graduated from Littlestown High School in 1961 and is a Junior at Shippensburg State College where he is a member of the Sigma Pi fraternity.

KELLER & KELLER

Waynesboro, Pa.

The Gettysburg Times

Gettysburg, Pa.

Gentlemen:

We acknowledge with thanks our copy of 46 pages of the 40th annual College Edition of your newsy Daily, dated September 18th, 1963.

I spent four happy years at Gettysburg from 1908 to 1912, a year ago last June we the 1912 Class celebrated our GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY with a high attendance. Some of our number had not been back since graduation and naturally it was an unusual occasion.

We congratulate your staff on a very worthwhile College Edition this year. It keeps an old grad who has been out of college more than 50 years in touch with how our college increased from some 200 to more than 1,800. We try to get back occasionally to see a football, basketball or baseball game. We hope Gbg can stage a comeback and defeat Juniata College next Saturday

Breaks Ankle In Jailbreak Effort

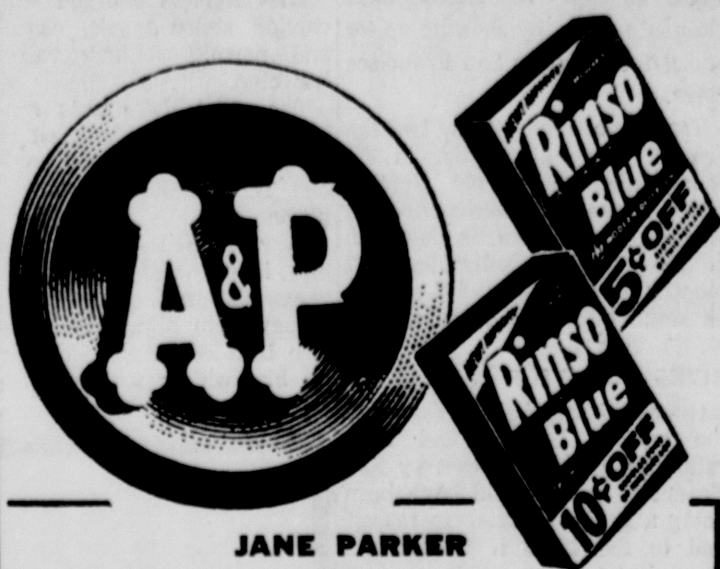

CHESTER, Pa. (AP)—Two men got away but a third prisoner broke his ankle and was unable to flee from a maximum security prison in nearby Thornton Wednesday.

Police captured Joseph Southland, 8, of Wilmington, Del., when he leaped 12 feet from the roof of a prison building, and broke his ankle.

Raymond E. Thompson, 31, of Philadelphia and James Carpenter, 26, of Linwood, Delaware County, escaped, however, when they leaped unharmed from the small building.

Police said Thompson was being held for a bank robbery in Philadelphia, a savings and loan holdup in suburban Yeadon and an armed robbery in Atlantic City, N.J.

MACMILLAN IS PREPARED FOR LABOR BATTLE ON SEX ISSUE

By HAL COOPER
Associated Press Staff Writer
LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Macmillan dug in today for an all-out battle with the Labor party opposition and critics within his own Conservative party over Lord Denning's report on the Profumo scandal.

In his 55,000-word document, Denning, Britain's second highest jurist, held that Macmillan and his ministers failed in their responsibility by not discovering and dealing with the romance between former War Minister John Profumo and prostitute Christine Keeler.

The prime minister plainly intended to fight back. He scheduled a radio address to the nation tonight.

SPECIAL SESSION

Harold Wilson, the Labor party leader, was expected to renew his demand for a special session of Parliament—now in recess—to discuss the report. Macmillan has turned this request down once.

Denning emphasized he had found no breach of national security, nor any truth in widely circulated rumors that members of the cabinet indulged in wild sex lives.

But he said Profumo's conduct—his admission that he had dated the 19-year-old call girl and addressed her as "darling" in a letter—was enough to create "a reasonable belief that he had committed adultery with such a woman."

BLAMES LEADER

"It was the responsibility of the prime minister and his colleagues, and of them only, to deal with this situation," said the report, "and they did not succeed in doing so."

The question of a betrayal of state secrets arose because of Miss Keeler's friendship with a Russian naval attaché while she was having the affair with Profumo.

Profumo, husband of actress Valerie Hobson, at first denied to Parliament there was any impropriety in his relationship with Miss Keeler. In June, in a statement resigning from the government and Parliament, he admitted he had lied.

Subsequent revelations at the vice trial of Miss Keeler's sponsor, the late Dr. Stephen Ward, further shook the country and produced a national debate on the state of British morality.

SEX PARTIES

In his report, however, Denning said he found no general decline in British morality. But he added there was blatant evidence of secret sex parties among an element of London society.

He cited the instance of a man wearing a black mask, who served dinner at one party "nearly naked except for a small lace apron around his waist such as a waitress might wear."

But contrary to rumors, the man was not a cabinet minister, Denning said. The jurist said he had learned the man's identity but did not make it public.

In some instances, Denning said, the dinners were followed by "perverted sex orgies."

News Briefs

MOSCOW (AP)—The United States and the Soviet Union opened negotiations today on proposals to enlarge each nation's consular activities on the other's territory.

An American team began talks at the Soviet Foreign Ministry on a consular convention, which has been discussed periodically since the United States recognized the Soviet Union in 1933.

Among questions to be discussed was the right of American consular officers to visit American citizens arrested in the Soviet Union.

Similar authority would be given Soviet consular officials in the United States.

TOKYO (AP)—Appealing to Russian pride and revolutionary tradition, Red China predicted today that the Soviet people would some day overthrow Premier Khrushchev.

A 30,000-word article published by the official Peking People's Daily and the theoretical journal Red Flag said Khrushchev had "wallowed in the mire" with Yugoslav President Tito and deceived and hoodwinked the Soviet people.

"This will not be tolerated by the great Soviet people."

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—The European Common Market is trying to avoid a chicken war over American rice.

In an attempt to prevent a repetition of the conflict over increased tariffs on imports of U.S. chickens, the Netherlands proposed at a meeting Wednesday that American and Far Eastern rice producers be given equal opportunities with growers inside the Common Market for about seven years.

The subject will be discussed at a ministerial meeting next month.

DELONE SCRUBS BEATEN 35-13

Chambersburg High School's junior varsity football team used the air lanes to route the Delone Jayvees 35-13 at Chambersburg Wednesday afternoon.

The Trojans scored three times in the second period, Rod Miller tossing to Roy Rowe on a 68-yard play, Ron Marshall connecting with Roy Varner on a seven-yard aerial and Miller and Rowe teaming up again on a 75-yard pass play.

Larry Tasker, linebacker, tallied for Chambersburg in the second quarter after picking up the ball when Delone's punt was blocked by Varner on the Delone 30.

The score went to 35-0 early in the last quarter when Miller hit on another long pass to Fred Williams, the play covering 68 yards.

Delone prevented a shutout with two scores late in the final round, Steve Price accounting for all of the points. His first touchdown was on a three-yard run and the second via a five-yard pass from Joe Bollinger.

The Squires will meet Bigerville at McSherrystown Monday evening at 7 o'clock.

Score by quarters:
Delone 0 0 0 13-13
Chambersburg 0 21 7 35

T.D.s: Delone—Price 2, Chambersburg—Rowe 2, Varner, Tasker, Williams; PAT: Price, Miller 2, James, Rowe all runs.

Today In Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington: ANTARCTIC MYSTERY: A government scientist says there is evidence of an unusual "atmospheric pressure disturbance" in the antarctic about Aug. 3, possibly the result of a volcanic explosion or the collapse of a huge iceberg.

The Atomic Energy Commission meanwhile reiterated a statement that it has "no evidence of an event in the antarctic caused by a nuclear explosion."

SIGNS OF CHANGE: Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says there are signs the Russians are beginning to modify their goal of dominating the world.

In an interview on the television program CBS reports, filmed last week before he flew to South Viet Nam on a fact-finding mission, McNamara contended that one sign of change was the test-ban treaty.

He said that unlike Russia, the United States entered the agreement from a position of superior strength.

EDUCATION: The Senate Labor Committee has approved a $1.75-billion college construction bill as well as an expansion of vocational education asked by President Kennedy.

In all, the committee acted on four education bills in a burst of speed Wednesday which Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., called "almost a miracle."

Both Republican and Democratic members supported the measures.

The college bill would authorize $1.5 billion over the next five years for classroom construction at four-year colleges, $900 million in grants and $600 million in

2,300 WORKERS END WILDCAT STEEL STRIKE

ALLENPORT, Pa. (AP)—Work resumed at Pittsburgh Steel Co.'s plant in this Washington County town today, ending a three-day strike.

A company spokesman said the regular work force returned to the plant for the 8 a.m. shift after a few men went back at midnight.

Local 1187 of the United Steelworkers Union met in nearby Charleroi Wednesday night, but there was no official word on what happened at the meeting.

The strike started at midnight Sunday and idled some 2,300 employees. The company called it a wildcat strike.

Pittsburgh Steel said the dispute concerned the continued employment of seven apprentice machinists. The union wanted machinists with more seniority to hold the positions.

SUSPEND 300

The company spokesman said five-day suspensions for 300 employees started today. The men were suspended, he said, because they failed to give adequate reasons for missing work.

Among the 300 is Hugh Jones, local president, who actually is on leave of absence from his job while holding the union post.

The return to work made unnecessary a hearing that had been scheduled today in Washington County Court.

The company asked Wednesday for a court order requiring union officials to endeavor to end the strike. Pittsburgh Steel contended it had lost considerable production tonnage and that the maintenance and security of the plant had been endangered.

The Allenport plant is Pittsburgh Steel's main fabricator of strip steel, seamless tubing and all of its sheet steel.

WOMAN MAKES UNEXPECTED EUROPE TRIP

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The 26-year-old daughter of a Pittsburgh couple is on her way to Europe aboard the Queen Elizabeth ocean liner, but that's where she'll stay—on the ship—until it returns to New York Oct. 8.

Diana MacKown, a New York artist (Greenwich Village vintage), wasn't supposed to make the trip. A frantic telephone call to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allison MacKown, Wednesday night revealed Diana's predicament.

DIDN'T HEAR WARNING

She was on board the Queen Elizabeth Wednesday, helping toast a college friend at a bon voyage party. The voice said, "All ashore that's going ashore," but Miss MacKown didn't hear it.

Her plight wasn't discovered until after the huge liner passed Ambrose Light ship off New York harbor where the pilot left for his return to the harbor. This is the point of no return for those aboard.

MacKown, a cellist for the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra, said Cunard Line officials advised Diana that she must remain aboard at all European stops since she does not have a passport.

He said his daughter told him the liner would depart England with a scheduled arrival of Oct. 8.

WASHINGTON (AP) — All of Pennsylvania's 13 Democrats in the House and six Republicans voted with the majority Wednesday as the House approved 271-155 a bill to cut taxes $11 billion next January.

The Republicans voting for the bill were Robert J. Corbett, James G. Fulton, Joseph M. McDade, John P. Saylor, Dr. James D. Weaver and J. Irving Whalley.

Seven Pennsylvania Republicans voted against the bill. They were Willard S. Curtin, Paul B. Dague, George A. Goodling, John C. Kunkel, William H. Milliken Jr., Herman T. Schneebeli and Richard S. Schweiker.

There is one Pennsylvania seat vacant in the House.

Pennsylvania's congressmen voted strictly along party lines as the House defeated 226-199 a Republican amendment to make the tax cut contingent on proposed reductions in federal spending.

How Do You Tell People That Makes The World's Best TV?

[And Get Them To Believe It]

Do you swear on a stack of Bibles that it is? (And then some of them wouldn't believe you.)

Do you tell them that there were more Zeniths sold last year than any other brand? (That's pretty good proof, but it's not exactly final.)

Do you "go technical" on them and start spouting off watts, ohms, resistances, capacities, etc.? (That won't work either.)

Do you ask them to consult any independent TV serviceman for his opinion about hand-wired chassis with no printed circuits? (He'd tell 'em in a minute that Zenith's the best, but would they go to that much bother?)

Do you hammer on the word "Quality" so much that they finally get to believe it? (Every "bargain brand" and every mail order cheapie uses the word "Quality" in almost every line of their ads.)

HONESTLY, WHAT DO YOU DO??

Maybe, as our old Dad used to say, you just let the people find out for themselves in their own way. Print ads once in a while like this one and trust in the judgment of the American people.

Confidentially, more than a million fellow Americans found out this truth last year because over a million bought new Zeniths!

Why don't you experience your own "Moment of Truth" too?

PROTESTING PUPILS MEET FOR DEVOTIONS

LEBANON, Pa. (AP)—Students protesting a ban on Bible reading at Lebanon High School are attending devotional exercises on the steps of a nearby church every morning before reporting for classes.

The Rev. Jacob Rudisill, pastor of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, located half a block from the school, said Wednesday he was asked by the students themselves to hold the morning service.

Twenty students attended Tuesday and 40 turned out Wednesday. The service includes reading from the scriptures. The Rev. Rudisill said he would continue the 10-minute service as long as the students want it.

Many of the students were among those who demonstrated outside the school Monday, carrying home-made signs protesting a U.S. Supreme Court ruling which outlaws compulsory Bible reading in public schools.

The Lebanon city school board first voted to ignore the court edict but when state Atty. Gen. Walter E. Alessandrini issued a ruling advising full compliance, the school board rescinded its action.

DECEPTION IS CHARGED

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. James D. Weaver, D-Pa., says the Kennedy administration is guilty of deception in withholding news of a mysterious explosion over the South Pole Aug. 3 until the Senate ratified the nuclear test ban treaty.

Weaver said Wednesday the Senate might have rejected the treaty if news of the explosion had been made public earlier. He said in a statement:

"This immoral censorship of news so vital to the security of the United States constitutes a gross deception of the American people and the Senate which had the awesome responsibility of reaching a decision... on information it believed was complete." According to a Washington newspaper the force of the explosion was estimated at 25 times more powerful than the atomic bomb dropped in Hiroshima, Japan, during World War II.

Blue Cross Lists Year's Payments

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Blue Cross board of directors reports payments to hospitals for subscribers is up $4,697,310 this year over last year.

The directors said Wednesday Blue Cross paid $55,600,030 to hospitals so far this year, compared with $50,902,720 last year at this time.

Blue Cross payments in August amounted to $6,233,189, said the board.

PTC EXECUTIVE IS FINED $1,000

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A retired Philadelphia Transportation Co. executive and a contractor for the train-carrying Frankford Elevated have been fined $1,000 a piece and put on two years' probation on charges stemming from City Hall scandals.

The sentences were imposed Wednesday on retired executive George H. Smith Jr., and contractor Eli G. Travis.

F. Emmett Fitzpatrick, assistant district attorney, described both men as cooperative in the investigation of the scandal. Travis was accused of lavishing gifts on city and PTC officials in order to obtain contracts for repairs on the Frankford Elevated.

Two of three other defendants in the case were acquitted previously. They were Harold V. Varani, fired as director of architecture and engineering in the city's department of public property, and Benjamin D. Barrone, former confidential secretary in the same department.

The third defendant, John E. Francis, was fired as deputy property commissioner. He was convicted on 21 indictments and sentenced to 11½-to-23 months in jail. Several of the indictments were set aside by the state Superior Court and Francis has appealed the others to the state Supreme Court.

The University of Alabama holds a 34-10 edge in its football series with Mississippi State. Three games were ties.

sion was estimated at 25 times more powerful than the atomic bomb dropped in Hiroshima, Japan, during World War II.

Ex-Councilman To Attend Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP)—John M. McDewitt, a former Philadelphia councilman who is studying to become a priest, has been ordered to appear in court here Friday in connection with a zoning investigation.

McDewitt, served with a summons Wednesday, has been ordered to show cause why he should not return to Philadelphia for a hearing on zoning violations. McDewitt, studying for the priesthood with the Order of the Oblates of St. Francis at Catholic University, served as a city councilman from 1959 to 1962.

JUDGE SELECTED

WASHINGTON (AP)—A. Leon Higginbotham Jr., a member of the Federal Trade Commission, has been selected a U.S. district judge in eastern Pennsylvania by President Kennedy, according to the office of Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa.

Clark's office said Tuesday, a formal announcement of Higginbotham's appointment is expected today or later this week.

Higginbotham, 35, was the first Negro appointed to the FTC.

Lodge Assails Mrs. Nhu As Cruel And Insulting In Remarks About Yanks

By ROY ESSOYAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

SAIGON (AP)—U.S. ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge charged today that Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu's description of junior U.S. Army officers here as "little soldiers of fortune" was cruel and insulting.

Mrs. Nhu, South Viet Nam's powerful first lady was sister-in-law of bachelor President Ngo Dinh Diem, also accused the officers of "engaging in irresponsible behavior." She issued the blast last week in Rome during her world tour to explain her ruling family's position in its feud with Buddhists.

"It is incomprehensible to me how anyone can speak so cruelly," Lodge said in his first public political statement since his arrival Aug. 22.

"It is a shocking statement. These junior officers are risking their lives every day. Some of them have been killed side by side with their Vietnamese comrades. These men should be thanked and not insulted."

Lodge's statement was expected to have the effect of a diplomatic bombshell on the strained relations between the Kennedy administration and President Diem's authoritarian government.

A barrage of direct and indirect anti-American comments from Mrs. Nhu and other members of the regime was launched after President Kennedy decided Diem's crackdown on Buddhist and student opposition as "repressive."

Lodge spoke out after Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara and his aides left Saigon for the first of four days of battle area checks on the progress of the U.S.-supported Vietnamese war against the Communist Viet Cong.

McNamara and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, were briefed Wednesday on the military and political situation. Lodge presumably brought up Mrs. Nhu's blast at the American officers.

Phila. Bulletin To Raise Prices

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Bulletin has announced it will raise its price to eight cents a copy starting next Monday. The evening newspaper now sells its editions for five cents.

Earlier this week the Philadelphia Inquirer, a morning newspaper, and the Daily News, an afternoon paper, also announced three-cent increases to eight cents.

The Bulletin said the cost of its Sunday edition would remain 20 cents. The Inquirer also left the price of its Sunday paper at 20 cents. The Daily News has no Sunday edition.

The Bulletin said it has maintained the present price for more than 15 years despite rising costs.

Seventeen teachers are enrolled in the leadership schools in Spring Grove and Hanover.

The congregation will participate in the Worldwide Communion October 6 with services at 8 and 10:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m.

GIVE CONTRACT AGAIN
HARRISBURG (AP)—The General State Authority re-awarded a $246,811 contract Wednesday for electrical work at a proposed extension to the physical education building at Pennsylvania State University.

The contract went to Trice Electric Inc., of Erie after being rebid when W. Floyd Bush of Martinsburg declined to accept the original contract on the basis of his low bid made July 10.

GETS GAVIN POST
WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Richard S. Schweiker, R-Pa., has replaced the late Rep. Leon H. Gavin, R-Pa., as a member of the House Armed Services Committee. He will continue to serve on the House Government Operations Committee, it was announced Wednesday.

LONDON (AP)—The British protectorate of Zanzibar, the clove island of 640 square miles just off the coast of East Africa, will become independent Dec. 10. Agreement to end 73 years of British control was reached Tuesday at a London conference. The island will become a member of the British Commonwealth.

Board Refuses Drain Permits

HARRISBURG (AP)—Applications for 15 mine drainage permits were turned down Wednesday by the state Sanitary Water Board because the applicants failed to submit adequate drainage plans.

Donald E. Fisher, Liberty, was refused a mine drainage permit for a 200-acre deep mine in Pine Twp., Lycoming County, that would have discharged to Pine Run to English Run to Little Pine Creek to Pine Creek.

Tax Bill Action Bane Or Blessing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Passage of the President's tax cut bill will mean that millions of consumers and businessmen can plan confidently and optimistically for the future, according to Rep. William S. Moorhead, D-Pa.

The bill passed the House Wednesday. It now goes to the Senate. Moorhead said Congressional action on the bill will determine whether the nation's young people will be a boon or bane to the economy.

If the bill is passed, "then the millions of young employed producing and consuming citizens will be a long-term boon to our economy," he added. "If we do not (pass the bill) they, as the unemployed, will be the bane of our existence."

APPROVES NEW RIVER BRIDGE

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Construction of a second Delaware Memorial Bridge—linking the New Jersey Turnpike with Wilmington suburbs—has been approved by the Delaware River Basin Commission.

The bridge, of two-span suspension design, will ease the growing volume of traffic on the present memorial bridge. It will parallel the present span, 250 feet upstream.

The Delaware River and Bay Authority plans to start construction next year.

The commission's approval Wednesday was required under a provision of the compact among Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey and Delaware, with the federal government as a partner. The commission must clear any project that affects the basin's water resources.

In other business, James F. Wright, executive director of the commission, said several months of studies are required before the group can act on a proposed hydro-electric system at the proposed Tocks Island project near Delaware Water Gap.

LIMIT WATER USES DURING DROUGHT IN LITTLESTOWN

Littlestown borough has put limitations on water use in that community for the remainder of the current drought.

At Tuesday evening's meeting of Littlestown borough council, the water committee reported that, as a result of a study of the town's water supply during the present drought, it recommended a ban be placed on the use of water for private or public car washing, garden and lawn sprinkling and pavement washing until further notice.

Council approved the restrictions and asked the borough secretary to give public notice.

TO ENLARGE ENGINE HOUSE
Littlestown borough will assist financially in the enlargement of the Alpha Fire house, according to discussion at the meeting of the borough council.

The amount of assistance and the method of raising the money, whether by an increase in taxes for one or several years, will be decided later when more definite plans are available, according to the discussion.

Monroe G. Morelock, Clair J. Redding and Richard L. Stuller comprised the committee from the Alpha Fire Company appearing before council. Morelock, as chairman, said the present estimates of the construction cost is $26,500.

AWAIT NEW COUNCIL

Present plans call for construction of a one-story front addition to the present building. The front would extend eastward across the front of the present mayor and police department office to permit housing of five pieces of equipment. Some councilmen expressed disapproval of the present plan, particularly if it would cover the sidewalk to the Community Center building.

The committee was told that final plans for the enlargement will have to be approved by council before borough money can be spent toward its construction. The councilmen also noted that there will be a "new council" in January, and that the present council could only go on record as approving some financial assistance, when the plans are finally agreed upon, and that the final action would have to be taken by the next council.

Efforts of the Littlestown Hardware and Foundry Company to prevent emission of sparks from a cupola at the foundry were outlined at the council session. Richard W. Fink, Claude S. Reichart and C. Edgar Pfeiffer, residents and property holders on Cemetery St., were present for the council session.

BLAMED FOR FIRES

Fink, spokesman for the group, claimed fires along the railroad had been caused by sparks emanating from the cupola.

Council President Lewis H. Fox then had Borough Secretary Roger J. Keefe read a letter the borough had sent the foundry and the reply received from the company. The foundry in its letter said its insurance company had recommended the use of heavy chains hanging down from the spark arrester to catch the sparks in the cupola. The foundry also said it has written the maker of the cupola for suggestions and that as soon as it hears from that concern it will use either the maker's ideas or the insurance company's suggestion and "fix the cupola accordingly."

Fink was asked to "give the firm a chance to get information on some method of correcting the alleged hazard" and was told to contact Council President Fox in about a week for further word on the matter.

AWARD CONTRACT

Two bids were received for 3,000 feet of 10-inch cast-iron pipe, R. D. Wood Company, Florence, N. J., bid $3.31 per foot for mechanical joint, with 21 cents a foot additional for cement lining. United States Pipe and Foundry Company, Burlington, N. J., bid $3.53 per foot for mechanical joint, $3.35 per foot for Tyton joint and 16 cents per foot additional for cement lining.

Tabulation showed the R. D. Wood Company bid was 3/4 cents cheaper per foot on both types of pipe with cement coating lining and the bid was awarded to it for the "Tyton Joint" type pipe.

Councilman Stewart N. Long reported on street improvements and presented a report from Borough Engineer LeRoy H. Winebrenner concerning proposed improvements to Charles and M Sts. Winebrenner said that either curbing can be placed along the north side of Charles St., from S. Queen to its intersection with M St., or the crown of the street can be placed along the north side thus draining water across the street to the south side. Winebrenner recommended M St. be raised and rebuilt rather than resurfaced. Council voted to have the two streets patched for the winter, and possibly placed on the 1964 agenda for reconstruction.

PROBLEM ON SPARROWS

Mayor Earl L. Stites reported heavy trucks crossing the sidewalk at the property of Marvin A. Miller, who resides on the south east corner of Keystone and Lumber Sts., are damaging the sidewalk. The major reported that following an investigation by Chief of Police Edward T. Kowalsky it was believed that elimination of two parking spaces on the west side of Keystone St. and posting of "No Parking" signs there will permit the trucks to turn into Keystone St. without crossing the sidewalk at the corner.

Council voted to send a second notice to Metropolitan Edison Co. directing it to move several utility poles on Charles and M Sts., and "if no prompt action is taken, more drastic action by the borough was suggested."

Council voted $200 to thin or remove six remaining trees along the southern area of the park to eliminate the "roosting of sparrows."

LETTER CAUSES STR

Councilman Walter C. Myers presented a letter from Mildred H. Bankert of the Tot Lot Committee of the Junior Women's Club asking the borough to

GAGE SIGNS SCREEN STAR

Mary Harrigan, star of the soon-to-be-released movie, "With Woman Came Love," has been secured by Richard North Gage, director of Allenberry Playhouse, Boiling Springs, to head the cast of "Shot in the Dark," a mystery-comedy, which opened a two-week run on Monday. She appears in the role which Julie Harris created on Broadway, that of a naughty parlor maid who is accused of murdering a chauffeur of an aristocratic French family who was her lover.

Peter Ratray, Allenberry's juvenile, cast as a French magistrate who is convinced the maid is innocent and determines to prove it. Don Draper portrays the maid's employer, a pompous French aristocrat, and Jane Farrow appears as the magistrate's wife. Margaret Janney is cast as Draper's wife and William McKelighan plays the police inspector.

"Shot in the Dark" is laid in the office of a French examining magistrate, who must determine whether the case shall be bound over to the courts for trial. This is adult entertainment.

The next attraction at Allenberry will be "Anniversary Waltz," a farce on a 15th wedding anniversary party.

NEW YORK (AP)—Harry (The Hat) Walker, manager of the Atlanta Crackers, today was named the International League's Manager of the Year in a poll of the league's baseball writers.

It was a repeat performance for Walker, who won the designation in 1953 when he managed Rochester. The Crackers finished the league's Southern Division season in a tie with Indianapolis, but lost in a one-game playoff.

"maintain the Tot Lot, keeping equipment in good repair and storing same over the winter months." The letter added: "When the project was planned we were informed by borough council that upon completion of the project the equipment and entire area would remain borough property. We agreed to this and have installed equipment and planned an area which has been greatly enjoyed by all toddlers of the community and most appreciated by their parents."

According to the minutes of the council meeting: "The letter caused quite a bit of comment inasmuch that, at no time did the borough council agree to accept this equipment, or was there any such agreement placed before any council known to the present councilman." The discussion ended with President Fox "informing council that he would take it upon himself to answer the communication."

Approval was given for the Veterans of Foreign Wars to construct a flag pole base on the sidewalk at its property.

Council discussed "certain unhealthy and unsightly conditions," according to the minutes at the Shoemaker property at 23-30 Lumber St. The matter was referred to the solicitor for instruction on legal steps to be taken to require the owner to eliminate the conditions.

House

eventually. It will remain alive in 1964 if it fails to get through this year.

But the administration is pushing hard for 1963 passage so that the new reduced withholding can take effect Jan. 1. As the House passed the measure, two-thirds of the benefits for individuals would be effective at that time.

The drive for fast Senate action puts the spotlight squarely on Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., Finance Committee chairman, who opposes any tax cut without offsetting spending reductions.

Byrd announced that his committee would begin closed-door briefings on the bill with congressional staff experts a week from today and that they will continue at least a week.

This probably means that Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon will not get a chance to lead off the public hearings until Oct. 14 or 15.

Senate Democratic leaders did not at once take issue with Byrd publicly but privately expressed deep disappointment at this decision.

Mike Mansfield of Montana, Senate Democratic leader, told a reporter he would talk with the Virginian in an effort to get him to speed up the committee's work. But Mansfield conceded Byrd had advised him it might well take the Senate Finance Committee two months to complete its action on the measure.

Engineers Named For Power Project

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Stone & Webster Engineering Corp. of New York has been named to coordinate the design and management of construction of 500,000-volt lines to carry power from the Keystone power plant in Armstrong county to eastern markets.

One of the circuits will carry power to northern New Jersey and the New York city area. The other will carry power to the Philadelphia area.

The Keystone lines are expected to be ready in 1967, when the first units of the Keystone generating plant are ready.

Companies who will own the lines and related facilities are Philadelphia Electric Co., Metropolitan Edison Co., Pennsylvania Electric Co., Pennsylvania Power & Light Co., and Public Service Electric and Gas Co.

CALL MOBSTER INTO PRIVATE TALKS TODAY

By G. MILTON KELLY Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mobster Joseph Valachi, 60, came to the capitol today to testify in a Senate crime probe and put the finger on underworld big shots.

The convicted dope peddler and murderer was hustled into a heavily guarded hearing room in the old Senate office building where the Senate Investigations subcommittee was to hear in private what he learned about a nationwide crime syndicate as one of its members.

A public hearing is to be held Friday.

ARMED GUARDS

A squat, brown-haired man in a gray suit, the grim-faced Valachi was smuggled into the office building by a guard of six U.S. marshals, and quickly taken down a long corridor to the hearing room.

The marshals held him by each arm, but in the jam of newsmen, photographers and spectators it was impossible to determine if he was handcuffed.

This is the first time in about a year the mobster-murderer had been brought out of hiding by the law. Officers believe the underworld has posted a $100,000 reward for anyone who can silence him.

MAY TOPPLE BOSSES

Valachi hopes his testimony will help to topple the leaders of his old crime society, known to its members as La Cosa Nostra.

The Senate Investigations subcommittee arranged today's session to give its members a chance to appraise the story Valachi is expected to tell of brutal murder, crime for profit and terrorism.

Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., already has heard the story in two interviews with Valachi.

McClellan said he saw Valachi Tuesday and that he appeared to be in good spirits and eager to testify in revenge against syndicate leaders for having ordered him slain as a stool pigeon.

SECRET OATH

The subcommittee is exploring the affairs of a nationwide crime syndicate known to its members as La Cosa Nostra, and to others as the Mafia or Black Hand. Reputedly, a paper is burned in the hand of a new recruit to the secret criminal society as he takes an oath of secrecy and vows to obey any order without question.

Deputy Chief Inspector John F. Shanley of the New York City police testified Wednesday that to his knowledge Valachi is the first Cosa Nostra member who dared to abandon the credo of silence in the presence of police.

SYNDICATE UPSET

Shanley said police wiretapping, authorized by a New York law, has turned up evidence the syndicate is deeply upset by Valachi's decision to talk.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, Wednesday's first witness, appealed for new laws to legalize police telephone wiretapping and to permit his office to clothe the "less culpable" members of a conspiracy with immunity from prosecution and thus compel them to testify against the higher-ups.

The idea is to destroy their right to invoke the Fifth Amendment privilege of refusing to give self-incriminating testimony.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Rear Adm. Leo L. Pace, 65, who was aboard the first American submarine to enter the Japanese Sea during World War II, died Tuesday. Pace was graduated from the U.S. Naval Academy in 1921 and retired in 1946.

FAIRFIELD, Conn. (AP)—Lyman Beecher Stowe, 82, author and grandson of Harriet Beecher Stowe, died Wednesday. At one time he was book editor of Doubleday, Page & Co.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Agnes Chase, 94, one of the few persons to be made an honorary fellow of the Smithsonian Institution, died Tuesday. Mrs. Chase retired as a senior botanist from the Department of Agriculture in 1939.

SAINT JOHN, N.B. (AP)—Sen. Clarence V. Emerson, 62, a member of the Progressive Conservative party since 1957, died Tuesday.

always be removed from the lamb chops because it sometimes causes the chop to curl while being cooked. It should not be removed from the leg of lamb or a lamb roast. She called attention to the increased use of herbs by the average homemaker but advised cautious use of a new herb until the tastes of the members of the family are satisfied. "Lamb is easily digested and quite often on our special diets we will find lamb is one of the favorite meats. All lamb is tender and can be served in so many different ways. All lamb can be cooked by a dry method of meat cookery except the lamb shanks and the neck slices.

DOUBLE CRUST PIE
The basic biscuit mix was used in the double crust pork pie. Miss Robinson pointed out the importance of using the proper kinds of measuring cups and spoons when measuring dry or liquid ingredients. This was also a dish which could have interesting variations in the choice of ground meat and vegetables and was another which can be prepared ahead of time and kept in the refrigerator until ready to be baked.

A dish which was suggested to the teen-age cooks as one they might like to prepare was the sunburst ham slice, in which a slice of ham is prepared in the broiler and served with fruit kabobs which are also broiled a very short time. Miss Robinson suggested placing a vegetable in the broiling pan directly under the ham and while the meat cooks the vegetables are warming and being flavored with the juices from the meat. This would provide a meal completely prepared at one time in the broiler. She advised careful reading of the instruction books given with a kitchen appliance in order to get the best and most complete service from that appliance.

"Ground beef chuck is a good buy in meat because there is a great deal of lean meat which has an excellent flavor," she told her listeners while preparing the Shanghai Casserole. "We recommend you use 3/4 lean meat and 1/4 fat meat for the ground beef prepared for the home freezer or for large amounts of meat. We can freeze all meats; ground meat can be stored for three to four months, except ground pork which should not be kept stored for more than one or two months. Regular cuts of beef can be stored up to one year. Ground meat should be cooked within 24 hours from the time you bring it home from the store unless you freeze it." This casserole used the very versatile ground beef with mixed vegetables, and provided a meal with an Oriental flavor.

"There are two kinds of meringue—soft meringue and hard, crusty meringue which you bake in the oven. The eggs should be room temperature before making a meringue," the lecturer reported during the preparation of a marble cake. "Many people are surprised that we use lard for a cake, but we find it gives a tender, feathery texture to the cake, and provides a cake with good keeping qualities."

TWO PAGES

Following an intermission, the audience again showed appreciation for the artistic "Spotlight on Foods" during which each of the foods prepared during the evening was displayed on brightly-colored cloths, and were accompanied by salads, rolls, fruits and beverages. Linda Welkert and Eleanor Deatrick again served as pages for this presentation.

Mrs. M. Elizabeth Wible, home economist for the Metropolitan Edison Company, again spoke on the advantages of an electric home laundry. She demonstrated the automatic washer and dryer, pointing out that they meant the elimination of weather worries, the saving of time and energy—another way to be "fresh as a daisy by living electrically."

One of the displays by the participating merchants which is popular with those in attendance is the fountain of Jean Nate toiletries displayed by Rea and Derick.

G. Henry Roth presided as master of ceremonies. Mrs. Lou Herring and Mrs. Martine Baer of the advertising staff of The Times assisted with the distribution of awards and literature.

SAINT JOHN, N.B. (AP)—Sen. Clarence V. Emerson, 62, a member of the Progressive Conservative party since 1957, died Tuesday.

FARMERS VOTE

foreign trade act was insisted upon by the farmers, he said. Turning then to the "major issues" before Pennsylvanians in November, he said "individual freedom and millions of dollars" are at stake.

"MEANS HIGHER TAXES"
Condemning the present plan for a constitutional convention, he said it allows only six months instead of a year for writing the new basic law of the state, puts politics into the method of electing delegates, designates the $3,000 each delegate is to receive as "expense" instead of as salary so that legislators could serve as delegate and suggested that the law was drawn in this fashion to help insure defeat of the constitutional convention proposal in November.

"Do you favor higher taxes?" is the question to be asked when debating the Project 70 proposal, Hatfield said. He described the plan as "a wolf in sheep's clothing," said the initial $100 million to be spent for land will be "only the beginning" of the spending the project involves.

He warned farmers their rights as landowners are not protected under Project 70 and said it gives the state administration "complete power" over the project. "It's a pet project of one man to take over much of our state in the name of recreation," he declared. He noted that the state now owns 3 1/2 million acres in this state and uses only 165,000 acres in state parks. He added that the state and federal holdings in the state now total 12 per cent of the state and currently proposed projects would boost that to more than 25 per cent. He declared agriculture, "still the biggest industry in Pennsylvania," does not have a great enough voice in state affairs.

COVER MANY TOPICS

Charles Lott, as chairman of the policy committee, presented a list of 16 recommendations, all of which were adopted to be sent on to the state organization to guide it in shaping its policies.

The list recommended a ban against importing any farm commodity that is presently in surplus; asked that government land retirement programs be on a whole farm basis; asked assessment of farm land on its own value without regard to more intensive developments on neighboring land; asked the state to permit hunting to reduce deer damage to crops, make the state responsible for crop damage by deer and that the state use a part of the hunting license fees for such purposes; asked a rigid state fruit and vegetable inspection program with prosecutions for violators.

Other recommendations were that provision be made for quantity discounts for milk sales at the retail level and that the truck license year start on February 1 instead of the present June 1 so that agriculture could use a half-year license for the harvest season. The final policy urged no jobless pay to persons physically able to work unless they are willing to accept available employment.

RIDINGER SPEAKS

One recommendation placed the farmers on record as favoring repeal of the state school reorganization law but this resolution was identified as "a holdover from last year" and association officers were unsure whether it refers to the already repealed Act 561 or its successor.

Assemblyman Harry D. Ridinger spoke briefly and urged support of Referendum 1A in November which would allow the state to make loans to qualified students for higher education. The association's state director, Paul Lerew, also spoke briefly and cited the wheat referendum vote as a vindication of Farmers' Association policies.

A resolution was adopted on the death of A. B. C. Williams, a charter member and former director of the Farmers' Association.

TREASURER'S REPORT
A treasurer's report presented by Secretary-Treasurer Calvin Bream showed the county association had total receipts of $7,550 in the last year and sent $5,940 to the state association in dues.

Introductions during the evening included County Commissioners E. Donald Scott and Clarence J. Waybright, Prothonotary Herbert Miller, County Auditor Ruth Frey, "Jake" Horner, the association's insurance representative, and County Agent Thomas Piper.

Mrs. Donald Garretson, Mrs. Calvin Bream and Mrs. Glenn Hoffman served as tellers for the election of directors.

PRESBYTERY SESSION HELD

The office and job description of a General Presbyter received the approval of the Presbytery of Carlisle during a stated meeting held on Tuesday at the Presbyterian Church of Falling Spring, Chambersburg, with 95 delegates attending. The Rev. Robert A. MacAskill, moderator and pastor of the Gettysburg Church, presided. The Council of Presbytery was authorized to take steps to implement the decision.

An extensive revision of the Presbytery's committee structure and the membership provisions of its Council received approval. Subcommittees on evangelism and ecumenical mission were elevated to major committee status and all major committee chairmen are to be members of the council.

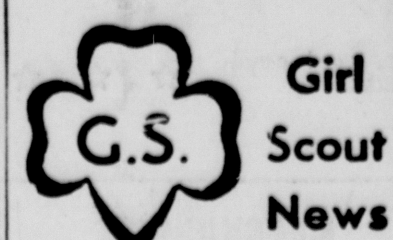

Two pastors were released to other presbyteries. The Rev. Robert L. Montgomery, assistant minister in the Juniata Larger Parish, was dismissed to Huntingdon Presbytery and was presented a call from the Williamsburg and Gibson Memorial churches, near Altoona. The pastoral relationship between the Rev. John C. Weber and the Millerstown and Perry Valley churches was dissolved and he was dismissed to New York City Presbytery. He is enrolled in pastoral clinical training at Bellevue Hospital Center, N.Y.C.

A progress report on the expansion fund campaign for the Presbyterian Homes of Central Pennsylvania was received from John D. Killian III, general chairman for the presbytery campaign. Pledges and payments to date $138,406 or 82 per cent of the goal.

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania AFL-CIO wants Gov. Scranton to create a state advisory committee to implement retraining programs of the federal Manpower Development and Training Act.

Harry Boyer, state AFL-CIO president, called on Scranton Wednesday to form the committee and include representatives of organized labor.

The Girl Scout Juliette Low Neighborhood meeting was held Monday evening in Arendtsville. Mrs. David Houck, neighborhood chairman, presided at the meeting at which the following items were discussed: District Advisor Judy Porter will become director of program training for the Penn Laurel Council. The new advisor will take over October 14. She has had 15 years of Girl Scouting experience.

A "special flyer" will be forthcoming to each troop leader on September 27 containing full details regarding the calendar sale November 8 through November 29.

The annual fund raising drive for funds for the Girl Scout Council will be conducted from October 1-3.

"Tips For Traveling Troops," were distributed to be used for all requests and reports on trips. Basic group leadership courses will be given to new leaders or committee members at the VFW in East Berlin October 17 and 31, and at York Springs Methodist Church, Main St., October 24 and November 7 from 7:30 to 10 p.m. It will be given in Hanover on Wednesday nights, starting October 30. Trainees should register on a Penn Laurel training application form which should be sent to the office at least one week prior to the course desired.

The fall council meeting will be held on October 10 with a dessert social hour at 6:15 and a meeting at 7:30 p.m. at Shippensburg High School. The theme for the meeting will be "Wider Opportunities for Girl Scouts Through Program Enrichment." Everyone is welcome. Tickets for dessert are 50 cents.

The need for a neighborhood cookie chairman and a district cookie chairman were announced by Mrs. Houck.

After discussing the above matters, Mrs. Houck turned the meeting over to Mrs. Ross Schwartz, troop consultant for Arendtsville, areas, who showed two film strips for Brownie and Junior age levels entitled, "Seven Through Seventeen."

Mrs. Ross White, troop organizer for Orrtanna and Cashtown areas, followed with games using the new leader notebooks and the new handbooks.

Mrs. Charles S. Taylor, troop consultant for the Fairfield, Orrtanna and Cashtown areas, gave a review on the various report sheets necessary for leaders to keep as well as reference books available for making more interesting troop programs.

ABERDEEN, S.D. (AP)—Two of the Fischer quints are full-fledged bottle babies now.

James Andrew and his sister, Mary Magdalene, were put exclusively on the bottle at St. Luke's Hospital. A hospital spokesman said the other three girls still are being fed by tubes into their stomachs.

All five infants are active in their isolettes and doing well. Their mother, Mrs. Andrew Fischer, was reported resting at home.

Mayor Seeks To Restore "Respectability Of Moral Indignation" In Rye, N.Y.

By JACK SCHREIBMAN
 RYE, N.Y. (AP) — Privileged children of upper-income homes, who amuse themselves with petty thefts, vandalism and party-crashing, are the object of a city-wide cleanup drive spearheaded by Mayor H. Clay Johnson of this Westchester County community.

But to get the job done, says the mayor, the well-to-do parents of the children will have to be rehabilitated first.

"The parents are to blame for this affluent delinquency," Johnson said. "We must restore the respectability of moral indignation."

TO FORM "COUNCIL"

Johnson, 50, hopes to effect the restoration through formation of a "Rye Council for Youth," to write a code of behavior for parents as well as their offspring.

A group of 60 community leaders held a meeting to square up to the problem. Attending were teachers, businessmen, churchmen, Lions, Kiwanians and Rotarians and Boy and Girl Scout leaders.

BLAMES PARENTS

They heard Mayor Johnson lay the blame for Rye juvenile offenses on permissive parents who have abdicated their responsibilities for the sake of "status symbols they try to acquire."

"Parents have been bullied by their children into giving excessive privileges," he said.

For example, he said, if two parents allow their children to have parties at home without adult supervision, then their neighbors will permit their children unsupervised parties too.

"They do this to gain status, for fear their children will be unpopular. This is wrong. These parents need a code to permit them to feel they can exercise some discipline."

"CONTEMPT FOR AUTHORITY"

To the traditional thinkers, who automatically associate juvenile delinquency with slums and broken homes, Rye is a paradox.

The city has no slums; more than 23 per cent of its land is devoted to recreation—parks, athletic fields and youth centers.

Like Johnson, vice president and general counsel of the Royal Globe Insurance Companies, the breadwinners of Rye's neatly tended homes are important men in their organizations.

Their children go to high-priced colleges and finishing schools.

Yet, says the mayor: "There seems to be a complete contempt for adult authority among many youths. Extensive vandalism has occurred. Parties have been crashed. The welfare of the community has been menaced."

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER
"HOLES" IN YOUR HEAD.

does every man—so no cracks from the male contingent, please!

Each of those holes forms an outlet for one hair, but that is not to say all of them sprout hair. There'd be no balding or thinning, if a hair emerged from every opening. And, among the feminine population, thinning is on the increase. Science, fully aware of the problem is giving it careful attention.

In the meantime lovelies cast about for their own solutions. And there's where they run into more fiction than fact. To set the record straight, this rundown of fiction vs. fact:

—Hair cosmetics cause falling hair. Improper use of tints, sprays and perms may trigger breakage but it is not a proven contributor to hair that comes out by the roots.

—Hair-dressing methods trigger the trouble. Could be! Leave wet hair in rollers for hours, wind the hair to the straining point or habitually wear a tightly drawn hairstyle—and you may run into a fall-out situation. As for dryers, if they are regulated on warm, they save stresses hours of strain from wet rollers.

—The good of tonics is a myth. Really good tonics coupled with massage stimulate the scalp's health. And the scalp is the garden soil of the hair.

—You inherit beautiful hair. That you do but, having been born with it, you can make a mess of it through abuse or carelessness. Tresses must be nurtured from the inside and out. Gentle care conditions the surface;

HOPE FOR NEW STEPS TO BAR NUCLEAR WAR

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
 AP Diplomatic Affairs Writer
 WASHINGTON (AP)—With the test-ban treaty safely through the Senate, administration leaders were reported cautiously hopeful today that Soviet Premier Khrushchev will be ready soon to negotiate on a "second step" to reduce dangers of nuclear war.

The same pressures believed to have influenced Khrushchev's decision to sign the limited ban on nuclear weapons testing are still present. Thus U. S. experts think Khrushchev may see further need to improve his relations with the Western powers.

These pressures include the bitter and growing differences between the Soviet Union and Red China and the apparently severe crop failure in the Soviet Union this year which makes Khrushchev partially dependent on Western sources for wheat and other food grains.

POSSIBLE NEXT STEPS NN NN

Furthermore, U. S. officials believe that after the Cuban missiles showdown last October Khrushchev decided the danger of nuclear war had been so great that steps toward minimizing future risks of worldwide destruction were necessary.

Possible next steps include proposals which Khrushchev himself has made for an East-West non-aggression pact and for the stationing of observers on both sides of the Iron Curtain to guard against surprise attack.

Of the two propositions, U. S. authorities think agreement on the observer plan is more likely because the nonaggression proposal has been tied by the Western powers to counterproposals for greater security for West Berlin.

The test-ban treaty cleared the Senate Tuesday by an 80-19 vote. It will prohibit all but underground testing.

"SUBSTANTIAL STEP"

President Kennedy called the pact "a single but substantial step in the direction of peace." Secretary of State Dean Rusk has characterized it as a "first

Dr. Daniel L. Kirk Regains Old Post

HARRISBURG (AP) — Public Welfare Secretary Arlin M. Adams Wednesday reinstated Dr. Daniel L. Kirk as superintendent of the Selingsgrove State School and Hospital, effective immediately.

At the same time, Adams assigned Kirk as acting superintendent of the White Haven State School and Hospital in Luzerne County.

Kirk will receive an annual salary of $19,644 for the two posts. That is the same salary he received in early July after Kirk refused to deny published reports that he was under political pressure in the hiring and firing of personnel at Selingsgrove.

step" with the implication there must be other steps if Soviet-Western relations are to continue to improve.

So far, Khrushchev has shown no pressing interest in proceeding with further negotiations. Several reasons have been advanced for this in official Washington.

Khrushchev may have wanted to be sure the treaty would win Senate ratification before proceeding with further measures. He may also have decided that urging consideration of other issues during the Senate debate might complicate matters.

ARREST MONK UNFURLING A BUDDHIST FLAG

By EDWIN Q. WHITE
 Associated Press Staff Writer
 SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Evidently hoping to capitalize on the presence of President Kennedy's top military advisers in Saigon, some Buddhists Wednesday made their first attempt in five weeks to demonstrate against President Ngo Dinh Diem's government.

Combat police quickly crushed it.

Accompanied by two civilians, a yellow-robed monk defiantly tried to unfurl a multicolored Buddhist flag in front of the National Assembly building. Police clubbed him down. They arrested him and his companions, then blocked off the plaza in a hunt for other monks.

USE DISGUISES

Five monks garbed as peasants were rounded up from nearby shops and arcades and dispatched to police headquarters in taxicabs. Hundreds of Vietnamese and foreigners witnessed the incident.

This was the first such outburst in South Viet Nam's political-religious crisis since troops and

CRITIC LIKED NEW NBC SHOW ON TEACHERS

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
 AP Television Radio Writer
 NEW YORK (AP) — There's a good chance that NBC, the television network, and MGM, the film studio, may glamorize the school teacher the way, two seasons back, they brightened up the doctor's image with "Dr. Kildare."

The vehicle which had its premiere show Tuesday night is "Mr. Novak." The hero is James Franciscus, a handsome, blond young man not unlike Richard Chamberlain. He plays an idealistic teacher in a large urban high school.

Where Kildare has his Gillespie, Novak has his Mr. Vane, the mature wise school principal, played by Dean Jagger with understanding and wit.

NO DELINQUENTS IN SIGHT

The production was glossy and the sentiments expressed about education were valid, if sometimes a bit high-flown. The high school pupils shown seemed like fine, high-spirited kids. There was not one juvenile delinquent visible.

"The Richard Boone show," the anthology series for which NBC

Britain Agrees To NATO Sit-ins

LONDON (AP) — The British government has decided reluctantly to sit in on the American-sponsored talks on the proposed NATO nuclear surface fleet. But the British will talk only if it does not commit them to joining the force and if alternatives are also discussed.

Qualified government sources said Foreign Secretary Lord Home will convey the cabinet's decision to Secretary of State Dean Rusk. Home flies to New York today, for meetings with Rusk.

The sources said Home will press Rusk to widen the inter-allied talks to permit an examination of alternatives to the mixed-manned Polaris fleet proposed by President Kennedy.

Soviet Ratifies Test Ban Treaty

MOSCOW (AP)—The Presidium of the Supreme Soviet Wednesday ratified the limited nuclear test ban treaty—24 hours almost to the minute after the U. S. Senate acted.

Tass reported the vote in the 33-member body was unanimous, which everyone had expected.

The Presidium, under the Soviet constitution, has the power to act when the Supreme Soviet itself is not in session. Its decrees are rubber-stamped when the full body meets which is usually in December.

has such high hopes, roared into its Tuesday night niche also. It started with an off-beat story more like the sort of thing usually tackled on Alfred Hitchcock's hour.

Boone, in a role light years away from his Paladin character, played a harsh, nasty and unscrupulous prosecutor determined to wrest a confession from a woman suspected of slaying her husband with a hatchet.

FASCINATING EXERCISE

It was a fascinating exercise in acting—and Boone is a great strong performer. Bethel Leslie played the hatchet lady and very competently too.

BILL SWEEPS RACE BAN FROM PUBLIC PLACES

By JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP)—A sweeping ban on racial discrimination in places of public accommodation has reportedly been added to the administration's civil rights bill by a House Judiciary subcommittee.

An authoritative source said the action was taken Tuesday but was not made public at the request of the administration because of the crucial vote on Wednesday on President Kennedy's tax cut bill.

The votes of Southern Democrats are needed to defeat a Republican amendment that would block the tax cut unless a lid is placed in federal spending for the coming year. The source said the White House fears news of the strong new addition to the civil rights bill might endanger those votes.

EXCEEDS PROPOSAL

The provision the subcommittee is reported to have accepted tentatively goes beyond the administration's original proposal by giving the attorney general additional authority to intervene in cases of racial discrimination in places of public accommodation, based on the 14th Amendment to the Constitution.

In its proposed bill the administration pinned its basic authority to the narrower right of Congress to regulate interstate commerce. The amendment reportedly approved uses both the commerce clause and the 14th Amendment.

"PRIVATE" HOMES EXEMPT

The only type of public accommodation apparently escaping coverage under the subcommittee's amendment is the small rooming house, characterized as "Mrs. Murphy's boarding house" in House and Senate hearings on the bill. The amendment exempts owner-occupied private homes with not more than five rooms open to the public.

The amendment was reportedly offered by Rep. Robert W. Kastenmeier, D-Wis., and in accepting it the subcommittee endangered the bipartisan support needed to move the entire civil rights bill through the House.

MOST CONTROVERSIAL

The public accommodations section is only one of seven provisions in the bill, but it is regarded as the most controversial. Many Republicans, including Senate Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, are opposed to it. The subcommittee has now apparently given tentative approval to all seven parts of the administration bill. The other sections deal with voting rights, school desegregation and job opportunities.

OLE MISS IS ALL-WHITE

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—The University of Mississippi has again become an all-white school with the ouster of Cleve McDowell.

McDowell was a second-term law student until Tuesday when the school expelled him for carrying a gun.

Asked about the decision as he left campus for his home at Drew, some 60 miles to the southwest, the 21-year-old Negro replied: "I have no emotions about it whatsoever."

McDowell faces a justice of the peace trial here Saturday on charges of carrying a concealed deadly weapon, a loaded .22 caliber revolver. Maximum penalty would be three months in jail and $100 fine. He is free on $250 bond.

NABBED ON CAMPUS

Officers arrested him on campus Monday.

The Student Judicial Council held a hearing Tuesday on charges that McDowell violated a university regulation against carrying arms on campus. McDowell and his attorney appeared before the council.

The student group recommended expulsion to Dean L. L. Love, who passed the recommendation on to Ole Miss Chancellor J. D. Williams. Both the dean and the chancellor concurred.

McDowell had been the only Negro at Ole Miss since James H. Meredith graduated last month. Unlike Meredith, he was not protected by federal marshals while on campus. Meredith's enrollment last fall set off rioting.

Dominicans Hold Leader Prisoner

SANTO DOMINGO (AP)—The Dominican Republic armed forces and police deposed President Juan D. Bosch Wednesday, and proclaimed they were turning the country into a "rightist state."

The Communist party and any party backing Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro were outlawed.

Reliable sources said Bosch, 53, author-professor, was a prisoner in the presidential palace. Another report said he was flown out of the country.

The armed forces issued a communique saying they seized power because "there was a chaotic situation in the country."

All schools were closed.

OLD ROAD PACT DELAYS START OF NEW BRIDGE

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — A 29-year-old compact between Pennsylvania and New Jersey is holding up planning of a new Delaware River bridge and a highway project.

Planning of the proposed bridge over the Delaware River between Mattamoras, Pa., and a point just south of Port Jervis, N.Y., has been held up while legal issues are studied. Also held up are plans for a five-mile stretch of interstate Route 84 which would start at the bridge.

Originally, plans called for both Pennsylvania and New York to

On Thursday the local club will be hostess at the Democratic tent at the Frederick Fair. A social hour followed the meeting.

BRITONS AWAIT BEST SELLER

LONDON (AP) — The British government unveils its best seller of the year tonight — Lord Denning's 50,000-word report on the Profumo scandal.

Politicians sharpened their knives for a new round in the long battle over former War Minister John Profumo's affair with prostitute Christine Keeler.

The government printing office made unprecedented arrangements to open its headquarters in central London half an hour after midnight for early buyers. The cost will be seven shillings sixpence — $1.05.

12-WEEK PROBE
Denning, 64, a High Court judge, produced his report after a 12-week investigation, including interviews with more than 140 witnesses ranging from Prime Minister Macmillan to prostitutes.

Denning's chief task was to determine if the Profumo-Keeler affair involved any security leaks. Christine at the time was sharing her bed also with Capt. Yevgeny Ivanov, an assistant Soviet naval attaché.

The identity of many of the witnesses indicated the judge extended his inquiry into rumors that the sex life of other government figures matched Profumo's.

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — President Kennedy, who has a history of back trouble almost took a tumble at the airport in Duluth. He slipped on the wet ground, but four aides kept him from falling. Kennedy walked from his plane to a crowd that had waited in a drizzle and began shaking hands. As he turned to leave, he slipped. The President stopped in Duluth on his 10-state tour.

share in bridge construction costs. 10-MILE LIMIT

But Supt. J. McMorran of the New York State Public Works Department said Tuesday a 1934 compact apparently prohibits construction of another Delaware River bridge within 10 miles of an existing toll structure between Milford, Pa., and Montague, N.J. That bridge is 7.6 miles from the proposed bridge.

The Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission, which operates the Milford-Montague toll bridge, has objected to construction of a new bridge.

McMorran said relocation of the bridge could create major problems because of rough and hilly terrain in the Port Jervis area. He said a final decision on the bridge will be made by the Corps of Engineers.

Test Ban Treaty Improves Soviet, U.S. Relations; New Pacts May Take Years

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States, now that the Senate has approved the limited nuclear test-ban treaty with the Soviet Union, is like a man who just made a down-payment on a new business although he hasn't figured out what kind.

The treaty is an improvement in the relationship between the two countries and could lead to better things—President Kennedy spoke of it as a first step—but nobody is sure, or could be, what comes next, if anything.

PROPOSES DISARMAMENT

The Soviet Union's Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, at the United Nations last week proposed, among other things, another disarmament conference. But disarmament conferences are not new with either side.

Since the Russians won't agree to an inspection system to prevent cheating on disarmament, the United States won't agree to disarmament without inspection, it was no wonder Gromyko's idea caused no gasps.

When Kennedy followed Gromyko at the United Nations with the suggestion that the United States and the Soviet Union get together to send a joint expedition to the moon, this wasn't new, either. It explains why the Russians didn't get excited.

It wasn't the first time Kennedy had mentioned it to them.

PROPOSED IN 1961

A White House spokesman said the President had proposed the joint moon trip to Premier Khrushchev at Vienna in 1961. Khrushchev didn't buy it. And, oddly enough, only two months ago Kennedy told a news conference it was impractical.

Gromyko, while he was at it, offered another idea which was also not new with the Russians: a nonaggression agreement with NATO Allies and the Warsaw Pact allies in Eastern Europe. The West had never grabbed at that one.

That's no wonder, either. It could have the effect, if the Allies bought it, of Allied agreement to the permanent division of Germany and Europe: a line down the middle with East Germany in the Communist camp, West Germany on the Western side.

NO COMMITMENTS

The Western Allies are committed to agreeing to no such thing. The Russians had already created their symbol of this division with the wall they built to split West and East Berlin. But it has remained, and probably was so intended, more than just a symbol of a divided city.

Since the Allies are unwilling to risk war by tearing the wall down, it is a symbol to their own bafflement in dealing with the Soviets.

There has been talk, also not new, about the two sides agreeing to setting up observation posts in each other's territory to be alert against military buildups or surprise attacks.

This idea alone, if the two sides ever seriously considered it, would probably require almost fantastically dragged-out negotiations. Even if they did agree, the final arrangements probably wouldn't mean much.

In a nuclear age it's hard to think of either side starting a war, which would almost certainly become a nuclear war, the way war started in 1914, with foot soldiers, or, in 1939, with tanks and ordinary bombers.

Along any of the avenues mentioned above, down which the two sides might be able to walk hand-in-hand, there could be some give and take but at this time there is no reason to think so.

A more likely road to better relations may be in the field of trade. Last week the Russians were reported anxious to buy American wheat, although they had just bought over $600 million worth of wheat from Canada.

A number of American businessmen have called on the government to take another look at its restrictions on trade with the Communist nations. There's a ban on selling them materials which might help them economically.

It has taken the two sides 18 years since the war to get this far: an agreement not to test nuclear weapons anywhere except underground. It is reasonable to assume it will be quite a while before they reach the next meaningful step.

WILL TRAIN MANAGERS OF SHELTERS

UNIVERSITY PARK—Approximately 40,000 trained fallout shelter managers will be needed in Pennsylvania in the event of a nuclear attack, Civil Defense officials have estimated.

To help to fill this need, the Pennsylvania State University has been asked to administer a 30-hour course in 15 Pennsylvania communities to train instructors who will be responsible in turn for the training of persons selected to serve as shelter managers.

In a nuclear age it's hard to think of either side starting a war, which would almost certainly become a nuclear war, the way war started in 1914, with foot soldiers, or, in 1939, with tanks and ordinary bombers.

Specific objectives of the program are to develop insight into the leadership and management challenges in a shelter environment, to develop the ability to plan and organize the shelter of time and to administer shelter operation for an extended period operations for community living.

There are no specific qualifications for enrollment in the course, although it has been suggested that enrollees have had teaching experience with adult groups. Each enrollee must agree to serve as an instructor of shelter managers for at least one 30-hour course if requested.

Locations and dates of courses are: Allentown, April 23 to 25; Altoona, March 19 to 21; Butler, Jan. 2 to 4; Carlisle, Oct. 31 to Nov. 2; Greensburg, Feb. 13 to 15; Norristown, Dec. 5 to 7; to 5; Washington, April 9 to Philadelphia, Jan. 14 to 16; Pittsburgh, Nov. 12 to 14; Reading, March 5 to 7; Selinsgrove, Jan. 10 to 14. The course was presented 30 to Feb. 1; Warren, Oct. 3 in State College last week. Similar programs are planned by state universities in all 50 states.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

BEFORE THE GAME
PHOENIX (AP)—Andy Ferrell's kindergarten class in patriotism is paying off. The other day, the 5-year-old lined up all the players on his electric hockey set. Then he stood up, put his hand on his heart and sang "The Star-Spangled Banner."

FOLLOW THE RED ARROW TO EQUAL MONTHLY GAS HEATING COSTS

Last year, 1 out of 3 gas customers, that's 83,000, joined your gas company's Budget Payment Plan. They paid equal amounts each month for gas heat.

The RED ARROW on your gas bill points to the amount you will pay each month when you join this plan. It was calculated from your total bills during the previous twelve months, adjusted to normal heating weather. You will pay the same amount each month for 11 months. Any difference between your total annual bill and the payments made would be adjusted in the 12th month.

The Budget Payment Plan starts with bills bearing a "last day to pay" date in October. If you want to take advantage of this convenient plan, just pay the budget amount the RED ARROW points to.

Watch for the RED ARROW and join your friends now using the Budget Payment Plan. It will help you avoid peak winter heating bills by spreading your gas costs evenly over the year.

Red World Split Along Chinese Border

The loudest voice of anti-imperialism is suddenly picking up some unpleasant echoes.

In its dispute with Communist China the Soviet Union has found itself rudely reminded of its colonialist past when, under the czars, it played the game of imperialism as avidly and successfully as any of the western powers for the land and wealth of an all but helpless China.

Peking last March declared it does not accept as binding the "unequal" treaties by which Russia and other colonial powers obtained Chinese land during the 19th and early 20th centuries.

Then, early this month, the Communist Chinese accused Russia of fomenting rebellion in the uranium-rich province of Sinkiang.

RIVALRY TARGET

Sinkiang, an area of non-Chinese Moslems, has long been a target of Chinese and Russian rivalry. It borders on Central Asia where Czarist armies extended Russian authority over hundreds of thousands of square miles a century ago.

The area includes much of Kazakhstan, Uzbekistan and Tajikistan along the borders of Afghanistan and Pakistan. The Russians took these over from small, independent potentates who had only the loosest connection to China, if any.

Yet in the angry split between Moscow and Peking, it appears the Chinese are building up a case to claim these territories, now the site of extensive development by the Russians.

The immediate focal point is the district of Ili (see map) in Sinkiang. The Chinese accuse the Russians of trying to subvert Chinese authority in Ili and of "coercing" thousands of Chinese to cross the border into the Soviet Union.

ASTOUNDING EVENT

Peking called this "an astounding event, unheard of between socialist countries."

Russia won right to mine uranium in Sinkiang in 1950. Eighty years before, Czarist troops had moved into Sinkiang, then moved out 10 years later in favor of the Chinese. But by World War I Russians were virtually in charge again.

As late as 1949, when the Communists were about to oust Chiang Kai-Shek from the mainland, Russia was still negotiating with the Nationalist Chinese leader to recognize Soviet "special interest" in the area.

But Sinkiang is only one barb along the Sino-Soviet border.

HAD FIRST TREATY

Oddly enough Russia was the

- 4 RED CHINESE DISPUTE RUSSIAN CLAIMS TO LAND WON IN TURKISTAN DURING 1860S
- 5 1895 CHINESE GRANT RUSSIA PERMISSION TO BUILD RAIL ROAD ACROSS MANCHURIA
- 6 1897 RUSSIA SEIZES PORT ARTHUR AND DAIREN AS EUROPEAN NATIONS GRAB CHINESE LAND
- 7 1898 RUSSIA DECLARES ALL CHINA NORTH OF GREAT WALL ITS "SPHERE OF INFLUENCE"

- 9 AFTER 1917 REVOLUTION RUSSIA TOOK OUTER MONGOLIA INTO ITS SPHERE OF INFLUENCE

first European nation China signed a treaty with. In treaties of 1689 and 1727 the two nations established diplomatic relations, provided for trade and extradition of criminals. But when the West began playing a stronger hand in China during the opium wars Russia's interest became more crass.

By the Treaty of Tientsin in 1857, following fighting between Britain, France and China, Russia was awarded all Chinese territory north of the Amur River. When the Chinese balked at the treaty, France and Britain imposed harsher terms which included ceding to Russia all land east of the Ussuri river, which included the site of the present city of Vladivostok.

CARVE UP CHINA

After China and Japan fought over Korea in 1894, the Russians joined the competition to carve up China and won the right to build a railroad across Manchuria. After the Germans seized Tsingtao in 1897 on the pretext of the murder of some German missionaries, the Russians occupied Port Arthur and Dairen.

Russia then joined with other western colonial powers in dividing China into "spheres of influence," claiming for herself all of China north of the Great Wall.

Russia moved troops into Manchuria after the Boxer Rebellion in 1900 but gradually withdrew because of pressure from Japan and Britain. Japanese hostility to Russia's ambitions finally broke out into war in 1905. Russia suffered a disastrous defeat after which she ceded to Japan the southern half of Sakhalin island, first occupied by Czarist forces in 1806, and agreed to let China develop Manchuria without obstruction.

Their respective revolutions — China's in 1911 and Russia's in 1917 — brought the two nations more closely together. The new Communist regime in Moscow abetted the Sun Yat-sen. Nonetheless Russia was also increasing its influence in Outer Mongolia until it held virtual suzerainty. While now independent, Outer Mongolia still is in the Russian sphere of influence.

Thus all along their common border are potential friction points between the two major communist powers. As noted, Peking has already said it does not recognize as binding key treaties by which Russia took much of this land. The treaties will come up for reappraisal, Red China said, "when conditions are ripe."

This is a veiled threat, which, should relations between the two countries continue to worsen, could bring back Russia's imperialist past to haunt her anew.

Missing Niece Of Princess Found In Iowa With Youth

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Mary Lee Davis, 15-year-old niece of Princess Grace of Monaco, and a youth with whom she had eloped from Philadelphia four weeks ago, were found here Tuesday night.

Miss Davis, daughter of wealthy parents, had been working as a waitress in a hotel coffee shop and the youth she intended to marry, John Paul Jones Jr., 0, had been selling encyclopedias.

Police said they had been in Des Moines about three weeks, staying in an apartment which a detective described as small but tastefully furnished and well decorated.

NOT YET MARRIED

Mary Lee said they were not yet married but were in love.

Acting on a tip from the boy's employer, who had seen Mary Lee's picture in the Des Moines Tribune, officers took the young couple to the police station for questioning. They were not held.

Mary Lee is the daughter of George L. Davis Jr. and Mrs. Eugene C. Conlan.

TALK WITH PARENTS

Young Jones, still wearing a school jacket with a "1963" label on the breast pocket, sat with his hand on Mary Lee's knee as they talked with their parents by telephone.

Mary Lee, who at the age of 7 was a flower girl at the royal wedding of Princess Grace, looks much like her famous aunt, the former Grace Kelly, now the wife of Prince Ranier of Monaco.

She was a student in the exclusive Academy of Assumption in Philadelphia. Authorities there said the Jones boy was graduated from Chestnut Hill Academy, a college preparatory school. Mary Lee said they had known each other about a year.

Des Moines police said parents of the girl and the boy were expected here today to talk with them.

"IN GOOD HANDS"

A newsman asked Mary Lee if she would return to Philadelphia and remain there and she said, "That depends on what happens." Young Jones refused to talk to reporters except to say, "We are in good hands."

Mary Lee spent Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James I. Walden.

Walden, Des Moines manager of the encyclopedia firm for which the Jones boy worked, said the youth was "an exceptionally bright young fellow, who took three orders in his first week at work."

WENT BY BUS

Mary Lee said they came to Des Moines by bus after leaving about Aug. 28 and had picked this city because a brother of the Jones boy had traveled in the Midwest.

Walden said he and his wife had dinner a few nights ago with the young couple, but didn't know who the girl was until Tuesday.

Detectives Hubert Brightman of the Juvenile Division said Mary Lee readily admitted her identity when he and two other officers called at the apartment. Jones was not there but he returned several hours later.

ANSWERS QUESTIONS

At police headquarters Miss Davis was calm and answered all questions.

She said she had no money when she and Jones left but that he had about $100.

Shortly after they landed here she obtained a waitress job by answering a newspaper ad and Jones went to work selling books.

Mary Lee said that before she and Jones decided to leave Philadelphia she had been staying at Ocean City, N.J. at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. John B. Kelly, widow of the late industrialist and sportsman.

Mary Lee said she left a note in her room but didn't know if it had been found.

She said the last time she saw her aunt was when Princess Grace visited the family in Philadelphia last spring.

Industries Sent Queries On Water

HARRISBURG (AP) — Special health questionnaires are going out to 400 northeastern Pennsylvania industries this week to help in the planning for development of the Susquehanna River basin.

State Health Secretary Charles L. Wilbar Jr. said Tuesday the state and the U.S. Public Health Service are conducting the special survey.

The industries are being asked where they obtain their water, how much they use daily, what types and volumes of waste waters are discharged, what treatment is provided these wastes of ture water needs.

Guatemalan Editor Writes To Edify Only His Censors

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

GUATEMALA (AP)—The desk of Clemente Marroquin Rojas, peppy editor of the newspaper La Hora, is cluttered with unpublished antigovernment editorials.

He turns out a new one every day. At the end of each he invariably adds a line: "Because I know this will not be approved for publication, may it serve to enlighten the censor."

La Hora is the only newspaper with a censor in all Guatemala.

The other newspapers, warned by the government not to publish anything critical of it, practice a form of self-censorship. When it came down to the fiery Marroquin Rojas, however, it was like asking Niagara to hush up.

La Hora is the only newspaper with a censor in all Guatemala.

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—Resplendent in sash and striped wool cap, Pierre Salinger allowed himself to be sprinkled with water from a cedar bough and thus became a member of the Minnesota Order of Voyageurs.

The presidential press secretary, who is accompanying President Kennedy on a 10-state tour, was inducted into the society Tuesday.

The order is named for the hardy French fur traders who were among the first white men to explore what is now Minnesota.

Salinger, who lives on Barcroft Lake in Fairfax County, Va., commented:

"On days when my wife is not feeling well, I assist her in carrying the canoe to the lake. It is all of 15 feet, but we manage it."

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Conservative Americans will decide the fate of President Kennedy in next year's election, says former Minnesota Congressman Walter Judd, a Republican and a conservative. Judd, who lost his House seat last year to a Democrat, told a news conference in Dallas, "There are more registered Democrats in this country than there are Republicans, but I believe there are more basically conservative people . . . than there are others. What these people do will be the determining factor."

KILLED IN CRASH
WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP)—Ernest L. Wright, 27, of Washington, was fatally injured Wednesday night when his car ran off Route 31 near Washington and overturned.

BOYLE'S
Grab Bag

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"I think of life as a struggle," said Sidney Poitier, "and a struggle at the core of which is man's effort to fashion order out of chaos."

"Because he has a mind and a brain, he is predestined to this struggle eternally."

At 39 Poitier, a man who says he "had to live in a hurry," is rated by many as the world's greatest Negro actor.

Although he feels that personally he is the exception to racial discrimination in the theater—"if there is an exception"—Sidney has taken a leading role in the fight against segregation.

"SOCIAL ORDER"
"I have to be active in it," he said, "because I believe that out of that chaos must come social order. And part of that order will be integration."

Poitier's own life has been a victorious struggle against ignorance and poverty. Raised in barefoot and happy freedom on an island in the Bahamas, he came to this country at the age of 15 after only one year of formal schooling.

Before he joined the Army, which trained him in physiotherapy, Sidney worked as a longshoreman, ditch digger, pin boy in a bowling alley, truck driver, store clerk and parking lot attendant.

It was after leaving the service in 1945 that he decided to become an actor. He set out in an intensive program of self-education, listening to the radio to improve his pronunciation, endlessly reading and studying the dictionary to build his vocabulary.

Given $287,500 In Accident Damages

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP)—A Montgomery County jury has awarded damages of $287,500 to Daniel Evans, 16, for spinal injuries suffered more than a year ago in an auto-truck crash.

The jury returned the verdict Wednesday against William Reinhardt, 16, of Philadelphia and Stealy's Motor Freight of Collegeville, Pa. Evans was a passenger in Reinhardt's auto at the time of the crash in Horsham Township on Aug. 14, 1962.

Evans, who was studying to become a Roman Catholic priest, was permanently injured, according to his lawyer.

ALUMINUM PRICES UP

PITTSBURGH (AP)—In line with an industry trend, the Aluminum Company of America has announced price increases on aluminum ingot, effective Oct. 2.

Alcoa said Wednesday the price would rise one-half cent to 23 cents a pound. All other domestic firms also raised their prices to 23 cents.

Loneliness," he recalled, "But loneliness has been my partner all my life — and still is to some extent."

"I don't lead a social life. I don't go to dances or night clubs. I am as much of a recluse as I can be and not have it too noticeable. My greatest recreation is doing things with my three children."

Poitier won recognition from critics in such stormy pictures as "The Defiant Ones" and "The Blackboard Jungle." In his latest film, "Lilies of the Field," he plays a low-key role as a wandering workman who comes to the aid of five refugee nuns trying to build a chapel in the Arizona desert.

"I've been the angry young man for too long," he said. "I want now to do pictures that make people feel glad they're human — and that point out being alive is fun."

AREA COLLEGE
CUTS EXPENSE FOR STUDENTS

Next fall only four out of every 10 students in search of a higher education will ship their baggage off to ivy-covered dormitories on green campuses across the country.

The other six out of each 10 will remain at home, commuting by car, train, subway, scooter, bike or boat to classrooms within a 20 to 30 mile area.

And, as tuition fees continue to increase at the rate of 5 per cent a year as they have for the past seven years, an even larger number of students are expected to seek diplomas this cheaper way, through commuter colleges.

Typical is the enrollment at Hofstra, a 75-acre university without dormitories at Hempstead, Long Island.

Of the 9,000 students, nearly 4,000 are full time day students, while the rest attend late afternoon and evening sessions. Eighty-five per cent of these earn a sizable portion of their costs by holding down jobs while taking courses, or between terms.

Some also receive financial assistance through scholarships, and personal or government-guaranteed loans.

All in all they fairly well illustrate the fact that a high school graduate, even in the face of today's rising educational costs, can find a way to a college degree.

"Probably the only exception is the young man or woman with an additional burden, such as a family to support," says the Randall W. Hoffmann.

Although the commuter college is one way to cut down expenses, Hoffman does not gloss over the disadvantages of living at home while going to school.

Parents are the chief problem, he says. Students, exposed to new attitudes in the course of learning are sometimes caught in the squeeze between their own recently acquired values and parental values.

"At Hofstra, for example, 60 per cent of the fathers and 77 per cent of the mothers have had no college experience. It is not surprising that for the most part these parents think only in terms of the prestige or the vocational value of a college degree."

The '64s from Ford are here:
The Year of the Test Drive starts today!

Ford cars have changed. Only a test drive can tell you how much. Races and rallies, economy runs, braking and acceleration tests have bred into our 1964 models the kind of total performance you just can't create on the test track alone. They are hard-muscled, fast-moving, sure-footed. Open competition helped make them that way. They offer you substantially more car than anything at their price. You don't have to take our word for it. We're willing to rest our case on our cars.

TRY TOTAL PERFORMANCE FOR A CHANGE!

FORD
Falcon • Fairlane • Ford • Thunderbird

1964 SUPER TORQUE FORD
Strongest, smoothest, steadiest car in its field—by hundreds of pounds... More steel in frame and suspensions... Unique suspension system allows wheels to move backward as well as up and down to flatten bumps... Distinctive new rooflines.

1964 FAIRLANE
Unique combination of family-size room, sports car feel and modest price... Optional 289-cubic-inch V-8 so lively it was adapted for famous Cobra sports car... Five engine choices, six transmission choices, eight different models.

1964 FALCON
Everything's changed except the economy that made Falcon famous... Falcon's Six still holds all-time Mobil Economy Run record for Sixes or Eights... Plusride ride ever built into a compact car... 14 models—plus three extra-duty wagons.
